W. J. BRYAN IS DEFEATED BY PARKER FOR THE TEMPORARY CHAIRMANSHIP

BRYAN'S ELOQUENT PLEA UNAVAILING

Progressives Lose On First Roll Call By Vote of 510 to 579.

COMPROMISE EFFORTS FAILED

The Nebraskan Nominated Kern, Who Tried to Get Parker to Step Down. Bryan Was Then Placed in Nomination.

Baltimore, June 25.—William J. Bryan lost his first fight for progressive control of the Democratic National Convention today, when he was defeated for temporary chairman of the convention by Alton B. Parker.

Mr. Bryan first nominated Senator Kern to oppose Parker. The latter declined the honor and named Mr. Bryan to make the fight. The Nebraskan made an eloquent plea "for the cause he had represented for 16 years," but it was unavailing.

The debate preceding the roll call threw the convention into wild disorder.

The vote on a roll call was: Parker 510; Bryan 506.

Last Effort to Stop Fight

A last desperate effort to avert a bitter factional fight was made by the Bryan forces when the Democratic convention took up the problem of selecting a temporary chairman. So sharp did the lines divide that Mr. Bryan himself became a candidate for the temporary chairmanship.

After Bryan had made a speech nominating Senator Kern, of Indiana, and attacking Alton B. Parker, Kern took the stand. He made a plea for harmony, asked Parker to join him in withdrawing from the contest for temporary chairman and substituting any one of a list of several men. After waiting in vain for a reply from Parker, Kern himself withdrew and nominated Bryan.

Again Bryan took the platform. He accepted the nomination and the line-up for the final struggle was complete.

Committee Called to Order

Chairman Mack dropped his gavel at 12:01 P. M., with the announcement: "The convention will be in order. The sergeant-at-arms will clear the aisles."

Cardinal Gibbons in his brilliant scarlet robes, pronounced the opening invocation, the entire assemblage standing with bowed heads. He spoke as follows:

"We pray Thee, O God of might, wisdom and justice, through Whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted and judgment decreed, assist with Thy Holy Spirit of counsel and fortitude, the President of these United States, that his administration may be conducted in righteousness, and be eminently useful to Thy people over whom he presides, by encouraging due respect for virtue and religion, by a faithful execution of the laws of justice and mercy and by restraining vice and immorality.

"Let the light of Thy divine Wisdom direct the deliberations of this convention and shine forth in all its proceedings and enactments, so that they may tend to the preservation of peace and good will and the preservation of concord and harmony.

"May authority be exercised without despotism, and liberty prevail without license. May this convention demonstrate once more to the American people and to the world at large, that the citizens of the United States have solved the problem of self-government by exercising and tolerating the broadest and most untrammeled freedom of discussion in their political assemblies, without dethroning reason and without invading the sacred and inviolable domain of law and of public order.

"May the delegates assembled to select a candidate for Chief Magistrate be ever mindful that they are the sons of the same heavenly Father, that they are the brothers of the same National family, that they are fellow citizens of the same glorious Republic, that they are joint heirs of the same heritage of freedom, and may it be their highest ambition to transmit this precious inheritance, unimpaired to their children and their children's children. May the consciousness of this community of interests or of destiny banish from their hearts all bitterness, hatred and ill-will, and inspire them with sentiments of genuine charity, benevolence and mutual respect and forbearance.

"We recommend likewise to Thy unbounded mercy all our brethren and fellow citizens throughout the United States, that they may be blessed in the knowledge and sanctified in the observance of Thy most holy law; that they may be preserved in union and in that peace which the world cannot give and after enjoying the blessings of this life, they may be admitted to those which are eternal."

Senator Kern entered the hall as the prayer closed and received a round of applause with scattered shouts for "Bryan."

Chairman Mack directed the reading of the names of the temporary officers. The first named—Alton B. Parker, of New York, for temporary chairman was greeted with a great wave of cheering, to which the band added its liveliest strains.

As the list was concluded Mr. Bryan stepped forward. The crowd caught sight of him for the first time and there was a storm of cheering.

Mr. Bryan shook his head, held up his hand and made other attempts to quell the outburst. This failing, the band began to play. Mr. Bryan sat down, fanning himself nervously with a big palm leaf.

Bryan Nominates Kern

The band stopped and Mr. Bryan pleaded for quiet. The cheering continued, however, for two minutes, the galleries being the last to subside.

"Gentlemen of the Convention:

"I rise to place in nomination for temporary chairman of this convention the name of Hon. John W. Kern, of Indiana."

A cheer greeted the announcement. Mr. Bryan again appealed for quiet.

"And in thus dissenting from the judgment of our National Committee," he continued, "I recognize that the burden of the proof is on me to overthrow the assumption of the committee that it is representing in this instance the wishes of the party and the country.

"I call your attention to the fact that our rules provide that the committee's recommendation is not final. The very fact that the convention has the right to accept or reject that recommendation is a higher consideration than that of the wisdom of the committee. If that is not proof that I have the confidence of the Democrats of this Nation I shall not attempt to produce proof."

A cheer interrupted.

"If any of you ask for my credentials; if you inquire why I, a mere delegate, from one of the smaller States, should present a name and ask you to accept it, I beg to tell you that in three campaigns I have been the champion of the Democratic party's principles and have received the votes of six million Democrats.

"I remind you that confidence reposed in a human being carries with it certain responsibilities."

Refers to His Enemies

Mr. Bryan said he would not deserve this confidence if he were not willing to meet defeat and humiliation in its defense.

"I recognize that a man cannot carry on a political warfare in defense of the people for 20 years without making enemies and I recognize that those enemies have been active every moment and are active now.

"The fact that I have lived is proof that I have not deserted the people. If I had forgotten them they would have remembered me.

"I take for my text this morning the text the committee has been kind enough to put on the walls for me."

He then quoted the big banner on the wall which under a picture of Andrew Jackson, read: "He never sold the truth to serve the hour."

"That is the language of the hero of Monticello. I would be worthy of the support I have received and I would not be worthy of the support I have received if I had been willing to 'sell the truth for the hour' at that time."

The delegates smiled at the reference to "Monticello" for quotation was not from Jefferson but from Jackson.

"Let me free myself from any criticism that any one may have made or may attempt to make hereafter.

Tried to Secure Harmony

"Is there any other delegate in this convention of over one thousand who tried earlier than I to secure harmony in this convention?"

"At the end of 16 years of battle," continued Mr. Bryan, "I find that the things I have fought for triumphant not only in my own party, but in the Republican party as well."

This sally was met with applause.

Mr. Bryan said he clearly was entitled to the privilege of speaking and rejoicing with his party. He said he had been more anxious for harmony than for the opportunity to address the party.

"In the committee," said Mr. Bryan, "the friends of Mr. Clark and Mr. Wilson were unable to agree upon a candidate."

But Mr. Bryan said later they had agreed upon Mr. Parker.

Another cheer interrupted.

"John W. Kern has been faithful every day of that 16 years. It has cost him time, money and the wear of body and mind. He has been free with all he had. Four years ago it was John W. Kern who stood by me and helped me take the last stronghold. He helped me uphold the policy of publicity of campaign contribution which has now swept the country.

"It was John W. Kern who stood with me on that Denver platform which demanded the election of Senators by direct vote of the people. Now he is in the Senate, where he can show the American people how big an American Senator should be.

"And now he is leading a fight in the United States Senate to purge that body of Lorimer. What better man could we have to open a convention?"

Calls for Parker

"Parker, Parker," interrupted a number of delegates and the call swept the armory.

"I repeat what better man could we find—"

"Parker, Parker," broke out the delegates. Mr. Bryan stopped for a moment.

Mr. Bryan said he spoke for Parker in 1904, but was not in sympathy with the candidate or the man who stood behind his nomination.

Again there came an interruption and cries of "Parker."

"We are writing history today," continued Mr. Bryan, "and this convention is to announce to the country whether this convention is to take up the challenge thrown down at Chicago by a convention controlled by predatory wealth, or answer it by ourselves submitting to predatory wealth, and give the country no party."

Applause again interrupted him.

Mr. Bryan then declared that the people of the country "well know that the influences that dominated the Chicago convention and made it a farce, that these interests are here and more brazenly at work than they were at Chicago.

"I appeal to you! Let the commencement of this convention be such that Democrats can raise up their heads amongst their fellows and say: 'The Democratic party is unafraid.' 'You can't frighten it with your Ryans, or buy it with your Belmonts.'"

Here a roar of cheers broke from the delegates and galleries. Hats were swung in the air and the cheers swept toward the stage. But the demonstration was short and Bryan continued.

"My friends," said Mr. Bryan, "if the candidate of the committee were an unknown man we would judge him by the forces that were back of him. We know who the candidate is. We know he is the man chosen eight years ago when the party, beaten for eight years, thought it might be well to try to win with those who had defeated us in the two previous campaigns."

Interests Behind Parker

Again came the interrupting cries of "Parker, Parker."

"The country," he continued, "has not forgotten that that convention was influenced in its action by promises of large campaign funds from Wall

ALTON B. PARKER'S KEY NOTE SPEECH

Severely Arraigns Republicans, and Especially Col. Roosevelt.

PRAISES DEMOCRATIC HOUSE

Democratic Tariff Record Compared With Republican—Canadian Reciprocity—Charges Lavish Waste of Funds.

Baltimore, June 25.—After his election was made unanimous, Judge Parker started to read his speech, but was interrupted at the very beginning by the greatest confusion. Thousands of persons in the gallery, content with having witnessed the big fight, started to leave the hall. When the convention met again at 8:25 P. M. Judge Parker resumed his address as follows:

"We meet while the hills yet echo to wild cries of liar, thief and traitor and furious wails of fraud, bribery, treachery and corruption; and our ears are weary with the din of the articulate shrieking and passionate villification of a most shameful brawl of our political history.

"Our candidates, however, are, without exception, men of such lofty mien that we meet immune from the distemper which seized the Chicago convention and privileged to discharge a solemn public duty calmly, deliberately, seriously.

"The cause of government by the people the world over has been materially checked by the disgraceful brawl which terminated in the bedlam of Chicago. Every good citizen has been put to shame by the brutality and the abuse which characterized this wrangle between a President and an ex-President. Gratitude, friendship, party loyalty, patriotism and common decency were forgotten in the tussle.

"The assault upon the unwritten prohibition against a third term made in the wild scramble for the Republican nomination warns us of the vital necessity of incorporating in our constitution a safeguard against repeated terms.

"The man who split in his party at Chicago, once recognized the third term tradition and acknowledged its application to his situation. On the eve of his triumph in 1904 he said, 'The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination.'

"Wrong in this year of grace, he was right in that. Peradventure he was honest with his soul, and he may have confessed to it that even a President may be tempted to resort to sordid devices and shameless importunities to gain his ambition. If so, he was in mental condition to realize to the full the danger to the Republic involved in setting aside a custom constituting the only bulwark against assaults of men whose ambition chokes their patriotism and whose selfish desire for personal victory and power throttles those moral scruples with which they may once have been endowed.

"Would the man who threw his hat in the ring and sought to slug his opponent over the ropes in his fight for a third term rest satisfied with its achievements?

"Clearly, his lust of power would have brooked no such limitation. A third term would but have whetted his desire for more and as the terms slipped away each renewal would discover greater injury to our constitution, the form of government established under it and to every legal curb on his imperious will. This is the man who menaced us with an increase of Federal power by usurpation of State's rights, and without authority of constitution amendment, the man who took the Isthmus of Panama, 'and let Congress debate about it afterwards'; the man, who having enough money to send the fleet on its famous cruise to the Pacific sent it without sanction of Congress, leaving it to appropriate the money for the return when Congress deemed that necessary. This is the man who advocated Federal incorporation for the increase of power at Washington and the lightening of legal burdens on the corporations; the man who authorized the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the steel trust; the man who, by many such drastic acts, and by unnumbered words has sought to batter down our statutory and constitutional safeguards.

"He who runs may read the danger of the country ruled by such a man.

"Unquestionably we have been wrong in assuming that a tradition against a third term constitutes a sufficient safeguard against unscrupulous ambition for unlimited power. We need a definite constitutional limitation which shall prevent imperialistic souls from forcing personal continuation in office for long periods or for life and the personal selection of a successor in office. ## CHAMP'S STOCK IS GOING UP

Clark's Chances Grow Brighter With Parker's Election—N. C. Delegation Against Him—Majority For Parker

(By W. P. Mangum Turner).

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—With the selection of Parker as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention this afternoon, Champ Clark's chances in the opinion of many politicians, took an enormous bound, for there seems no doubt about Clark living up with the anti-Bryan forces, although his own State divided its vote. Many of Governor Wilson's earnest supporters felt rather blue over the situation tonight, although some thought it the very best of politics to have given absolute support to Bryan. Onlookers who can view the situation from an unprejudiced standpoint, doubt very seriously Clark's ability to get the necessary two-thirds vote. It may be that on a ballot or two Clark will get New York's vote, but this is doubtful, if it looks like the vote would nominate him. I have talked with New York delegates and they are not for Clark. If the crowds on the streets were doing the nominating Clark would be the choice, and in fact, the Speaker has an enormous following here. The North Carolina delegation does not look upon Clark with favor. I heard newspaper men from many parts of the Nation express themselves this afternoon on Bryan's speech, and their opinion was that while a good speech it did not measure up by any means to his efforts on big occasions. The ovation given Bryan, the man, when he entered the hall, was tremendous, but as Bryan, the would-be leader, the applause was very different. In some way his speech did not have ring to it to catch the crowd. Bryan had been defeated before in committees and as a standard bearer of Democracy, but it was a new experience for him to meet defeat in a Democratic convention. As he walked from the convention towards his hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, his face wore the expression of a person very much disappointed.

On the vote for temporary chairman the North Carolina delegation voted as follows:

For Bryan: Hammer, Bryant, Self, Clark, Robinson, Haynes, Hale, McKinnon, Newland, Justice, Graham, S. L. Simth, Ramsey, White Cox, Young, Glenn, McIver.

EXPERT ANALYSIS.

J. T. Shotter Will Look Into Southern Classification No. 39.

Atlanta, Ga., June 25.—An expert analysis of the Southern Classification No. 39, which makes numerous increases in freight rates in Southern territory, and which aroused a storm of protest from railroad commissions and trade bodies, will be made at once. This decision was reached today by the steering committee named at the conference of railroad commissioners here June 3rd. The analysis will be made under the direction of J. T. Slatter, manager of the Birmingham Freight Bureau. He will be assisted by rate experts from the Georgia & Florida Railroad commissions and the Atlanta, Richmond, New Orleans and Birmingham freight bureaus. A report on the work will be made to a meeting of the steering committee to be held July 12th at Atlanta.

Bristol, Va., June 25.—A special from Cameron, Va., near the Virginia-Tennessee State line, says that the dead body of Mrs. B. C. Terrell, was recovered from a pond this morning after the family home had been burned to the ground. It is supposed that Mrs. Terrell set fire to the home after getting up during the night and then drowned herself. She had been insane for several days. Her husband was asleep in the house, but escaped. The family is well-to-do.

IT MAY BE CLARK OR A DARK HORSE

Many at Democratic Convention Think Champ Will Be Nominee

BRYAN ALMOST ELIMINATED

It is Reported New York Will Support the Speaker and May Get the Vice Presidency—Progressive Platform.

Baltimore, June 25.—William Jennings Bryan met defeat at the hands of the Democratic National Convention today and in the opinion of many of the party leaders here, eliminated himself from the race for the Presidential nomination.

The vote by which former Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, was elected temporary chairman over Mr. Bryan—579 to 510—was interpreted tonight in many ways. The Champ Clark adherents are openly claiming the nomination, and there were many at the convention today who were inclined to agree that it would either be Speaker Clark or a "dark horse". Talk of Mr. Bryan has not ceased by any means. Some of his friends claim that today's vote was no test; that many of his most ardent supporters were compelled by circumstances to vote against him as temporary chairman. They claimed, on the other hand, that the vote of 510 given to Mr. Bryan indicated that he held a "veto" power in the convention which put him in a position of dominance as to who should be the nominee.

Clark Forces Support Bryan.

Many of Speaker Clark's delegates openly threw their support to the anti-Bryan forces. This was regarded as opening a breach between the Speaker and the former nominee which may cause the Bryan supporters to make a bitter fight on Clark. Taken from another angle the vote of so many of the Clark adherents for Judge Parker was interpreted as a distinct bid for the support of the conservative element in the convention.

This conservative element, it may be stated, is practically prepared to accept a radical or progressive candidate. They frankly admit that to name a conservative or so-called reactionary, would result in strengthening the hand of Col. Theodore Roosevelt in his organization of a third party. This the leaders are anxious to avoid.

The turn of political affairs in the past few dayse is regarded here as having been decidedly favorable to Speaker Clark's candidacy. The straight out Wilson delegates today threw their support solidly to Mr. Bryan in his fight against Judge Parker. This, the leaders figured, would make the conservative element choose Clark in preference to the New Jersey Governor as the progressive candidate.

New Yorker for Vice President.

There was a report abroad tonight that the 90 votes of New York, a controlling factor in the situation, would go to Clark. This report was based largely upon the action of New York today in voting against Bryan. The fact that the Missouri delegation also gave Parker a majority of its votes—22 to 14—quickly called out reports of a coalition of interests between New York and Missouri.

This naturally led to talk of Clark for President and a New York man for Vice President. The man mentioned most prominently in this connection was Senator O'Gorman. There was talk tonight, also, that the Underwood forces might come into this combination, the plan being that Mr. Underwood should have the speakership of the House in the event of Mr. Clark's elevation to the Presidency. Most of the Underwood States are said to be against Mr. Bryan on almost any proposition whatever. Certain it was that most of these States—located in the Solid South—voted against Mr. Bryan today.

The Clark people declared tonight that with New York and the Underwood forces united under the Speaker's banner, the latter would have more than the number of votes to nominate.

Will Name a Progressive.

It seemed certain tonight from the public action of the delegates and their privately expressed views that the Democratic convention will nominate a progressive candidate and adopt a progressive platform. Some of the leaders frankly said they resented Mr. Bryan's assumption to dictate the temporary chairmanship and pointed to today's vote in justification of their views. Mr. Bryan, despite the effort to eliminate him, however, remains a stalwart factor in the convention and may be given the authority to write the platform.

The Democratic leaders appear genuinely anxious to strike a winning combination. They say they are willing to recognize and refer to the progressive element and the progressive spirit of the time.

There was nothing more tangible to the situation tonight than talk and claims.

"The result of the balloting on the temporary chairmanship today," said Senator-elect Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, "means but one thing—that Clark will be nominated on the first ballot."

James for Permanent Chairman.

Mr. James was discussed tonight as

DESIRE TO FINISH WORK IN A HURRY

Delegates to the Convention Hold Rapid Fire, Routine Session.

VARIOUS COMMITTEES MEET

At the Night Session of Present Democratic Convention a Resolution Was Passed Adopting Rules Of Last One

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—A rapid fire, routine session tonight closed the first day of the Democratic convention which began with the defeat of W. J. Bryan for temporary chairman this afternoon. Scenes of disorder on the floor which made further proceedings impossible, forced tonight's session and compelled Alton B. Parker to suspend his keynote speech until the evening session.

Tonight the delegates on the floor gave earnest evidence of their desire to do business in a hurry and get away from Baltimore.

The leaders had planned to adjourn the session tonight until 2 o'clock tomorrow and to have the committees which were appointed tonight meet at 10 o'clock in the morning. But the delegates would not hear of this plan and disorderly protests from the floor forced an adjournment until noon and advanved the committee meetings so that they were ordered to meet immediately after the session. The delegates were very excited about hurrying things along. A voice from the floor during the day announced, "We have no Perkins to pay our bills."

The completion of Judge Parker's speech and the nomination of committees was the sum of the work of tonight's session. William Jennings Bryan did not appear at the convention hall during the evening. His failure to be on hand caused an almost immediate adjournment of the Resolutions Committee which met after the session in response to the delegates' demand for speed. It was practically certain that Bryan would be elected chairman of the committee. The other committees got together immediately for organization.

But a scattering attendance appeared in the galleries at 8 o'clock, the hour set for convening the convention. There were hundreds of vacant seats in the delegates' sections. The delegates who were in their seats, gathered in little groups and a hum of conversation swept the hall. The band was anxious to please and drifted from "Moonlight Bay" to "Von Suppes Overture," from Wilhelm Tell.

Scattered hand-clasps greeted Chairman Parker as he made his way up the the middle aisle through the groups of delegates.

The soft rain that fell at intervals all day set in again toward nightfall, adding to the humid heat and the atmosphere of the hall was oppressive. As a result delegates and spectators stripped off their coats and rolled up their shirt sleeves ready for the night's work. The bright glare of the flickering electric lights added to the oppressive heat.

The delegates began to crowd in about 8:20 and in a few moments the aisles were in confusion. The sergeants-at-arms tried in vain to get the delegates seated. Many of them wanted to visit and converse and they thought the aisles the proper place to do it. Finally four policemen were placed in each aisle to keep the crowd moving.

At 8:25 Chairman Mack dropped his gavel and the night session was on.

The Rev. W. M. Dame, of the Memorial Protestant Episcopal church of Baltimore, then delivered the prayer.

In conclusion the Rev. Dame led the assembly in the Lord's prayer.

"The congregation will join in the Lord's prayer," he said, and the congregation really did. A murmur that grew louder and more confident as the familiar words went on, swept the big hall, and the whispered "Amen" was full-throated and loud.

Mr. Mack introduced again Judge Parker and the temporary chairman resumed the speech which was this afternoon interrupted. In his introductory remarks tonight Judge Parker said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: Last week in Chicago met a great party, the purpose of which was to save the party from destruction, here in this city the Democratic party meets for the purpose of helping the country. In that convention, inside of it and outside of it, there were heard the words of 'Liar,' 'thief,' 'robber,' 'corruptionist,' 'briber,' but no such words will be uttered in this Democratic convention.

"We have had a little difference here today, a question of men, my fellow citizens, and there was nothing said on that occasion by any of the principal debaters that was at all severe or intended to be unkind. I remembered those three magnificent struggles that one delegate had made for the Democratic party in this country. I realized that this meant much to him and that if he was mistaken with reference to my position, as I believe he was, that it was my duty to forgive it and to stand with him in this convention.

"My fellow Democrats, there is one

BERT KITE MANAGER.

Wilmington's "Old Reliable" to Head the Asheville Team.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 25.—The directors of the Asheville baseball club held a meeting this morning for the purpose of considering the resignation of Manager Kling, who has had charge of the team since the beginning of the season and who handed in his resignation Saturday. The resignation was accepted and the directors chose Kite, who has been catching, to manage the team, presumably for the remainder of the season. It is said that the reason for Mr. Kling's resignation was his inability to play, which it was understood he would do at the beginning of the season. Another reason may have been the successive defeats which the team has been sustaining during the past few weeks. Out of 13 of the last games played, Asheville has taken only one. Mr. Kling was seen this morning, but refused to comment at all on the situation.

While Kling has been generally liked by the fans, it is not likely that his leaving will cause much regret. It has been evident for some days that some change would have to be made in the management, the team, or in both. The club cannot carry but 12 men and this fact makes it necessary that the manager should also be a player. It was understood at the beginning of the season that Mr. Kling would play at second, but he has never participated in the games. However, he has had entire charge of the team, which was successful during the first of the season and the fans have been at a loss to account for the consistent defeats.

FREIGHT QUESTIONS.

Method of Handling Cotton Discussed by Railroads.

Atlanta, Ga., June 25.—The question of export cotton and the method of handling to be employed this year in connection with steamship lines, was discussed at a meeting of representatives of Southern railroads here today. Another session will be held tomorrow. Among the lines represented are the Illinois Central, Southern, St. Louis & San Francisco, Atlantic Coast Line, Georgia, Central of Georgia, Louisville & Nashville, and Gulf & Ship Island. E. H. ## COMMITTEES ADJOURN.

Decide to Postpone Organization Work Till This Morning.

Baltimore, June 25.—After being forced into night sessions by a vote of the convention, the various committees on organization took the matters in their own hands soon after meeting and decided not to continue through the night.

William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, the probable selection for the chairmanship of the Resolutions Committee, was not present to assist in the organization, and the platform makers adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The permanent organization committee adjourned until 10:30 A. M. tomorrow. There was no discussion of the probable choice to succeed Judge Parker in the chair, but it is well understood that a Progressive will be named.

Senator Kern, of Indiana; Senator Elect James, of Kentucky; Senator Culberson, of Texas, and Governor John Burke, of North Dakota, are being considered.

The Rules Committee decided that more could be accomplished by postponing its session until tomorrow morning.

The Credentials Committee organized and then adjourned until 9:30 A. M. tomorrow morning.

Contests from nine States and Territories, involving the seats of 77 delegates, will be heard.

Joseph E. Bell, of Indiana, was eelcted Chairman, and Frank J. O'Donohue, of Massachusetts, Secretary. A motion to adopt the findings of the National Committee on all contests was ruled out of order by Chairman Bell. The full committee will consider each case, and all evidence bearing upon the contests will be admitted. It is expected they will be completed and decisions reached before the convention meets at noon.

Cals of the States tonight showed the following contests:

Illinois — First to Tenth districts, Twentieth district, one delegate in Seventeenth district and eight delegates at large. South Dakota, all ten State delegates. Rhode Island, all ten delegates. Missouri: Ninth district. Texas: Seventh district. Alaska, District of Columbia and Philippines: Six delegates each. Seventh and Ninth Pennsylvania districts.

CONFER WITH BRYAN

Roosevelt Financiers In Consultation With Nebraskan

Baltimore, June 25.—Francis J. Heney, of California, one of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's fighting lieutenants in the Republican National Convention, and Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, who helped to finance the Roosevelt campaign for the Republican nomination, were in consultation tonight with William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, for three-quarters of an hour.

Heney and Crane reached Mr. Bryan's apartment by a private elevator and were gone again before their visit became generally known. No one could be found who would discuss the incident tonight.

In connection with the Heney-Crane visit tonight, it was learned that two representatives of the Outlook, one of them Carl Rowland, who has been close to Col. Roosevet since his return from Africa, two years ago, were in town. Both put up at one of the headquarters hotels. They were anxious regarding the possibility of a progressive-conservative fight in the convention.

One thing a girl never pretends about is how she likes to have her elder sister's clothes passed down to her.

ALTON B. PARKER'S KEY NOTE SPEECH

tional provision should limit to a single term.

"In this great country which boasts of a wealth of 130 billion as against 80 billion for Great Britain and Ireland; 65 billion for France and 60 billion for Germany, all are conscious that too large a part of our wealth has been secured by a small percentage of our population and that the cost of living rises faster than the average income.

"The principal cause of all this is to be found in the tariff statutes and in the combinations restraining trade and competition, created for the purpose of wringing from the public every dollar which the tariff statutes make possible.

"The average of duties under the tariff of 1789 was 8 1-2 per cent. Now the average is 50 per cent.

"Protected interests benefitted by two increases during the war, the first to an average of 37 1-2 per cent., the second to 47 per cent. That high average, then excused only by the exigencies of the war, is exceeded now, as the average is nearly 50 per cent.

"The Republican party has thus geared the machinery of government to enrich the few at the expense of the many.

"An awakening of the people led the Republican National Convention of 1908 by its platform to promise a revision.

"In vain did the people demand of Congress the fulfillment of the Republican pledge, for the masters of that party—the protected interests—insisted upon the pound of flesh nominated in the bond. And it was yielded. Congress passed and the President signed the Payne-Aldrich bill.

"One outcome of this breach of faith was a Democratic House, which has acted so wisely and so courageously as to arouse the enthusiasm of the people and inspire the Democratic party with justifiable hope of early opportunity to render a public service sorely needed.

"The President's use of the veto power has postponed, however, the hour when the people shall enter into the enjoyment of the relief proposed until after inauguration of the next President.

"The temporary failure, owing to the action of the electorate of Canada, of the effort to effectuate reciprocity with that country, is regrettable. The agreement proposed was in the interest of the people of both countries.

"All honor to the Democratic House which stood for the good of the Nation as a whole and prevented the repeal of the reciprocity act, thus leaving the door open to Canada if her people shall later elect to accept our proposal.

"Mr. Taft said in a speech in 1908 that during the preceding 10 years nine-tenths of the combinations to restrain trade had come into existence. During nearly all that time the Republican party was in control of every Northern, Eastern and Western State, as well as of the Federal government.

"The reason for the encouraging inactivity of the Republican officials is plain. The tariff beneficiaries were and for many years had been contributing to campaign funds of the party which in turn protected the special privileges enjoyed by the donors. But competition prevented in some instances the collection from the people of the full sum stipulated in the tariff. To secure it all, tempted the cupidity and stimulated the ingenuity of the beneficiaries. But one way could be found—combination to control the price up to the point where the statute let in foreign competition. The same party which shut out foreign competition was found willing to permit the formation of combinations which effectually banished home competition. The common law on the subject and the Sherman Act were treated by Republican officials as repealed by implication. Need it be said that the protected interests, for these larger privileges, made larger contributions.

"We are indebted to the President for the evidence that his predecessor having first enjoyed an interview with George W. Perkins restrained his Attorney General from bringing suit against the Harvester combination.

"For the Steel Corporation he went further, for he wrote his Attorney General in advance of its absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company that he had decided 'to interpose no objection.'

"Indeed, he apparently stood ready to perform similar kindly offices for all corporations, for he advocated the passage of a statute permitting voluntary submission of all engaged in inter-State commerce to Federal authority, with the advantage to them of immunity from prosecution because of contracts made if stamped in advance with executive approval as reasonable.

"Whatever of excuse may be offered the ugly truth is that the Republican National machine has received the moneys of the corporate and individual beneficiaries of the tariffs and combinations and in return has compelled Congress to continue high the tariff rates and their Attorney Generals to clase their eyes to violations of law.

"I submit that the jury of the people should find as a general verdict—'that the failure of the executive and legislative branches of government, both Federal and State, to protect the people from the special privilege hunters and graft-seekers is deeply rooted in a corrupt alliance between the latter and leaders of the Republican party.' Upon that verdict but one judgment can be entered—that of eviction."

Mr. Parker quoted the much discussed letter written by Col. Roosevelt to the late E. H. Harriman and said Mr. Harriman reading between the lines of that letter, hurried to Washington, hurried back, and promptly raised the quarter of a million dollars demanded with $10,000 over for good measure.

"This incident plainly discloses the ligament that binds the Republican party to the interests preying on the people and defying the law.

"The time has come when the salvation of the country demands the destruction of the leaders of a debauched party, and the restoration to place and power of men of high ideals who will wage unceasing war against corruption in politics, who will enforce the law against both rich and poor, and who will treat guilt as personal and punish it accordingly.

"For their crimes against American citizenship, the present leaders of the Republican party should be destroyed.

"For making and keeping the bargain to take care of that tariff protected interests in consideration of campaign funds they should be destroyed.

"For encouraging the creation of combinations to restrain trade, and refusing to enforce the law, for a like consideration they should be destroyed.

"For the lavish waste of the public funds; for the fraudulent disposition of the people's domain, and for their contribution toward the division of the people into classes, they should be destroyed.

"For these efforts to seize for the executive department of the Federal government powers rightfully belonging to the States they should be destroyed.

"All destruction will be theirs, this very year, if we but do our duty.

"What is our duty? To think alike as to men and measures? Impossible! Even for our great party! There is not a reactionary among us. All Democrats are progressives. But it is inevitably human that we shall not all agree that in a single highway is found the only road to progress, or each make the same man of all our worthy candidates his first choice.

"It is our duty to put aside all selfishness, to consent cheerfully that the majority shall speak for each of us and to agree that the convention shall stand shoulder to shoulder, intoning the praises of our chosen leader—and that will be his due, whichever of the honorable and able men now claiming our attention be chosen."

MUNSEY WITH NEW PARTY

Editorial Anuounces Break From the Republican Ranks

Philadelphia, June 25.—Frank A. Munsey, one of Colonel Roosevelt's advisers, caused this to be printed as an editorial article over his signature in his newspaper here Saturday:

The most notable thing about this convention is the magnificent organization of the old guard. In all political history nothing has ever surpassed its solidarity. It is a unit as unthinking as a granite wall and like a granite wall is as unreasoning and unyielding.

The New York delegation with its solid body of seventy-five votes controlled by Barnes, a great, strong rugged figure, defiant, clear-headed, conscienceless, holds the center of the stage. Most conspicuous of the members are Barnes himself. Senator Root, who presided over the convention; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and ex-Senator Depew, who exercises no more individuality, no more freedom of thought, than a granite stone.

Four little men who depend upon party patronage or men who have grown up in the slum of political activity, such an exhibition is not surprising, but for men of culture and education like these, wealthy, influential, occupying commanding positions, to make themselves mere cogwheels in a great machine is both pitiable and astounding.

Out of the defiant unyielding attitude of the old guard has been born a new party—a party of the people, a party of sympathy with the people and a party which is to this period what the Republican party was to the period of 1860.

This new party is not the sudden caprice of the moment; not the resnult of disappointment and bitterness. It is merely an amalgamation and using of great, deep underlying forces that have for years been struggling to the surface against tremendous odds and tremendous opposition. Nothing could longer postpone the inevitable. The hour had come and figth as people will fight against the severance of old ties and associations, the commanding appeal of the new has compelled the revolution of the old.

Now that the decision is reached; now that the die has been cast, the disappointment and sorrow of the progressives have given place to hope, to good cheer and to the determination to get busy and do things.

The Progressive party will be a young man's party. A party of the present and the future; not of the past. It will be progressive in the upbuilding of industry and commerce; it will be constructive, not destructive; it will be progressive in all that is sane and sound and substantial and right and just.

WATTERSON'S PRAYER.

Discusses Democratic Needs—Plea to Those at Baltimore.

Louisville, Ky., June 25.—After a discussion of Democratic needs, Henry Watterson concludes a double-column, double-leaded editorial in The Courier-Journal today with a picture and a prayer:

"The morning breaks. The light ahead is far to see. It is of good augury that once more we meet in the glorious old metropolis of Maryland. Time was when Democrats turned to Baltimore as Mahometans turned to Mecca. Noble city, in deep reflection the spirit of Democracy walks thy streets this day; broods amid the solitudes; pauses beneath thy balconies and belfries to revisit the scenes of the past; glows with pride in recalling the triumphs of other days, the beauties—thy beauties, ah, Maryland, my Maryland—of other days; to stand at last upon the monument, whispering to the stars, 'God of Dreams' what may betide, God of the fathers, grant Democracy heart of grace; God of the universe, save us our Republic.

"Gentlemen of the convention, these may be but an old man's fancies—his cradle song come back to him as he stands upon the brink of the awful river—his bosom warms with love, his eyes wet with tears, reverent yet not afraid, as he beseeches you to put all else aside—to listen only to the music of your hearts—to give us a Democrat—a Democrat tried and true, without fear and without reproach, who, elevating the host of the religion of Jefferson, shall lead us to the delectable mountains, where history, rescued from shame, may plant again the eagles and proclaim anew the majesty of Democracy, unterrified and undefiled."

New York, June 25.—According to cable advices received here, Sir Lawrence Alma Tadema, the artist, is dying from abcess in the stomach. He has been at Wiesbaden for some time under the care of a specialist.

SWELL QUARTERS.

Gaynor's Boosters Rent Fine Mansion at Baltimore.

Baltimore, June 25.—Inasmuch as Mr. Beacham rented his home to Mr. Gaynor's boosters with every stick of Chippendale furniture and other bit of virtue intact, the headquarters are equipped with all the conveniences that a Democratic politician is accustomed to.

The mansion tucked away as it is, in the shadows of the Elms in the ultra-classy residential section, is a bit removed from the electric-lighted spots where politicians most foregather, but delegates and other visitors to Baltimore are growing accustomed to the fact that this is the most far scattered convention crowd that ever got together.

One may go from bar to bar merely by crossing a corridor from the regular hotel bars to impromptu bars in what recently were palm rooms or parlor, but to go from one center of political interest here to another means you first kiss your wife and daughters good-bye and break the news to them that you have chartered a taxicab and are going on a long, long journey.

But the trip to the handshaking rooms in the Beacham mansion is worth while if for no other reason than to glimpse the dignity of the pompous aid liveried Uncle William Henry Walsh and the rare courtesy of Aunt Elvina.

Uncle William Henry graciously escorts you from hardwood floor to successive hardwood floor until you are under the eaves and looking right into his own bedroom in the servants' quarters.

And when he's got you up he leads you down again. The front exit William Henry escorts you and bows with dignity and says a parting "good afternoon, suh."

There are fine oil paintings hanging on the dark-toned walls. Where the patterned hardwood doesn't show on the floors are Oriental rugs. Rare china is racked about the walls in a fashion that wins the hearts of every Democratic aesthetic who strolls in a hushed and be-stricken manner in Uncle William Henry's wake. There are old chandeliers of hammered brass—masonry cabinets that exude gentility, sombre paintings and permeating everything is an air of fine old aristocracy and transcendental aestheticism.

JOINS ROOSEVELT

R. T. Thorp, of Virginia, Wants a New Party

Norfolk, Va., June 25.—R. T. Thorp, nominated for Republican Presidential elector at large from Virginia, has telegraphed Theodore Roosevelt that he stands ready to join Roosevelt's independent party and to give such aid as he can to "disenthrall the South from the incubus of a name.

Mr. Thorp says the name "Republican party" is all that has held the "solid South" for the Democrats.

Thorp says he never has been officially advised of his nomination to be an elector, but has been informed of it through Democratic newspapers.

Sites for State Tobacco Test Farm—Killing of Boy—Committee Meeting May be Postponed —Auto Licenses

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 25.—A special committee appointed by the State Board of Agriculture is out just now inspecting several sites that are offered for the proposed tobacco test farm to be located somewhere in the bright tobacco belt of Piedmont Carolina.

They visited Durham and Oxford sections today to inspect sites suggested and will also go to Greensboro and to points in Forsyth and Rockingham counties to inspect sites before they settle the question of the location for the proposed test farm, which it is intended shall make tests and demonstrations in tobacco culture for the benefit of the tobacco growers of the State. In the committee out now making the inspections are Commissioner of Agriculture Graham, Dr. B. W. Kilgore, director of State farms; I. H. Kerney, Franklinton; William Bledsoe, Gates; A. T. McCallum, Red Springs, and R. W. Scott, of Haw River, representing the State Board of Agriculutre.

Chief of Police Stell, of the Raleigh police force, says he cannot say now when there will be any hearing in the case of Levene Betts, the fifteen-year-old lad who is being hsld for stabbing his brother to death Sunday afternoon. He says there are circumstances that require thorough investigation to make sure that there was not some fight between the two brothers or other members of the family that brought on the killing of the young man, Clifton Betts. In the meantime, the boy, who insists that the killing was purely accidental, is being held in the city prison pending this investgaton.

It is understood here that at the request of the members of the Democratic State Executive Committee who are attending the National convention at Baltimore there will be a change in the date for the special meeting of the State committee in Raleigh. It was called recently by Chairman Eller for July 1st. Now it is understood that the meeting will be deferred to July 8th so that the committee now in Baltimore can get here in good time.

The water plant for the suburban property recently developed in the vicinity of the Raleigh Country Club is being installed. The reservoir tank of 5,000 gallons capacity, was installed today and the pumps and electric motor for operating it are here ready for installation. It is said that there are a number of owners of lots in the Country Club neighborhood who are preparing to erect handsome residences.

In the Department of State there are several clerks busy as chester these days issuing the renewal licenses for automobiles in this State, the renewal tax being one dollar. There are about 4,500 automobiles in the State for which the renewal licenses must be secured by June 30th else the licenses will be cancelled and the owners will be required to take out entirely new licenses at $5. instead of the $1 renewal.

Commissions were issued today for W. J. Jackson, as lieutenant and W. B. Clifton, lieutenant junior grade, fourth division of Naval Brigade at Plymouth. There is also a commission just issued from the office of the Adjutant General here to Leo. E. Byrum as second lieutenant, Company E, Third Infantry, Oxford.

There was special ceremony last night in the Masonic Grand Lodge temple for the installation of the worshipful masters of the three Raleigh Masonic lodges, Grand Master W. B. McKoy conducting the installation ceremonies.

Master Arnold Wilcox, son of Rev. A. D. Wilcox, pastor of Central Methodist church, this city, broke an arm last evening by falling over a wire that was stretched around a grass plat near the Wilcox residence. It was a complete fracture of both bones in the forearm.

OPERATION'S STRANGE EFFECT

Shouted "Whoa" to Runaway Mules When Brain Was Relieved

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 25.—After lying unconscious for several hours as the result of an injury received in a runaway, Wiley Cannon, of the Sulphur Springs section, after an operation on his head, began to shout, "whoa, whoa"—which was no doubt what he was saying when the accident occurred.

Mr. Cannon who is 67 years of age, hitched up a horse recently at his home at Sulphur Springs. The horse became frightened at something and ran away. Mr. Cannon was thrown out and his head struck something which knocked a hole in the occipital bone. He was taken to the Johnston home and Dr. Gardner was called. Dr. Gardner immediately began the operation of trephining. The accident took place about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 10 o'clock that night the operation was completed. As soon as the bones which were pressing on the brain were lifted he began to shout at his horse.

LEGISLATURE MEETS TODAY.

Georgia General Assembly Will Lose No Time.

Atlanta, Ga., June 25.—Law makers from all parts of the State gathered here tonight for the opening of the General Assembly tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The organization of both houses having been completed at the special session last January, called for the inauguration of Governor Joseph M. Brown, little time will be lost before the Legislature gets down to the regular grind of the 50-day session.

Gossip among the members on the ground indicate that the Tippens bill, proposing to make the State prohibition laws more drastic by cutting down to one-half of one per cent. the amount of alcohol in any and all beverages permitted to be sold in the State, will be the earliest fight of the session and one of the most important.

New York, June 25.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court of New York has held in a decision just rendered here, that the presence of bedbugs is justification for the breaking of a lease by a tenant.

Teachey's, N. C., June 26.—The Board of Education, county superintendent of Duplin county, Prof. J. E. Avent, superintendent of the Goldsboro graded schools and the board of trustees and patrons of Teachey State High School assembled in the High School auditorium here last Thursday to take under advisement the establishment of a domestic science department for the girls and for the continuation of the department of agricultue for the boys, in connection with the planning and equipping of the new $7,500 building to be erected in the near future on the campus of the Teachey State High School.

The auditorium was packed with an enthusiastic audience. The exercises were opened with a song, "America", by the Glee Club. Prof. P. E. Shaw then presented the first speaker, Mr. A. L. Teachey, a student of the A. & M. College, who in a short but eloquent address pointed out the vital importance of practical education and congratulated the board of trustees upon their untiring efforts to make Teachey's State High School a power for good in Duplin county and urged them to continue their work for this splendid institution. Prof. Avent, the principal speaker, was then presented in a very fitting way. Prof. Avent made one of the best speeches that has been heard at this point in many years. He discussed the subject of education from its three-fold aspect, mental, moral and manual, in other words the education of the heart, hand and head. He estimated the value of education from the standpoint of dolars and cents, saying that the value of a complete education is worth $21,000 and that a child one day at school is worth to the child $10. However, the money value is the lowest value of education. The moral value is the highest. He gave examples illustrating this. But manual training accentuates the value of education from both the money and moral standpoint. It enables its possessor to make more. It practicalizes education, leading to better home conveniences better sanitation, better conditions in and about the home, all being manual but intensifying the moral side of education. He congratulated Teachey upon being the first place in North Carolina to establish a community agricultural school and urged the establishment of a department of domestic science and such things as would make practical education of children.

He spoke for more than an hour and his speech was well received, being punctuated with a number of humorous stories which kept his audience in good humor. His speech was followed by long applause.

The members of the Board of Education then made short speeches. They were heartily in sympathy with the movement and pledged their liberal support. Mr. Wooten, county superintendent, then made a short address on practical education and told of the great need for such training in Duplin. The exercises were closed with a song, "My Old Kentucky Home," by a male quartette. The audience went away with a determination to fight still harder against the monster, ignorance.

THAW ON THE STAND.

White's Slayer Given Severe Grilling by Jerome.

White Plains, N. Y., June 25.—Harry K. Thaw spent five hours today—the sixth anniversary of his shooting of Stanford White—on the witness stand under fire of examination by William T. Jerome, who is opposing Thaw's fight for release from the Mattewan asylum. Today Mr. Jerome reminded the witness suddenly of the anniversary of the tragedy and questioned him sharply as to the circumstances of the killing. Both Thaw and his counsel, Clarence J. Shearn, quickly interposed objections on the ground that Mr. Jerome was showing animus and "serving private interests."

Mr. Jerome declared his questioning was within the province of a "mental examination," and he was generally upheld by Judge Keogh, but was unsuccessful in his apparent attempts to make the witness display undue agitation. The question of Thaw's motive in killing White did not bother him.

"It was on account of the cold blooded way in which he had done things to my wife and other girls," he declared firmly. He refused to answer when Jerome asked if he was insane during the half minute he was killing White. But he said later, "I think my mental condition was the same as Gen. Daniel Sickles when he shot Key."

"But," Jerome quickly retorted, "Gen. Sickles did not hide behind a woman's skirts, as Evelyn testified the other day that you had done."

Thaw said that by a combination of his own opinion and that of his alienists, he had arrived at the conclusion that he is now sane.

At another time Mr. Jerome asked: "Mr. Thaw, will you describe in detail the killing of Stanford White by you?"

"I don't think I'm able."

"You described it to Dr. Russel in 1911, did you not?"

"No."

"Are you unable to give an account of the killing?"

"I am.

"From what does your inability arise? Is your memory impaired?"

"In part."

"Will you state what recollection you have of the occurrence from the time you left the Cafe Martin until you were taken to the station house?"

Thaw was extremely unwilling to give an account of the killing and replied again and again that he could not answer; the questions were too broad.

"You understand that we are here to find out if we can whether you are crazy or not, don't you?" asked Jerome.

"I can't answer the question," replied Thaw.

Asked why he could not, the witness would not answer.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 25.—Upon the arrival of the steamer Cetan of the Merchants' & Miners' Line from Baltimore next Friday, Capt. Wood will be called before the steamship inspectors to give testimony as to the cause of the collision between the Cretan and the steamer Iroquois of the Clyde Line at sea several weeks ago. The captain of the Iroquois will give his testimony later on upon the arrival of his ship from New York.

WAIT ON DEMOCRATS.

Teddy Will Organize Party After the Baltimore Convention.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 25.—With the organization of the new Progressive party definitely under way, ex-President Roosevelt returned to his home today from Chicago. He was smiling, and he said in fighting trim. He made it clear that the work would be pushed ahead with full steam on. His neighbors in Oyster Bay, who have followed the political fortunes of Col. Roosevelt for a good many years, did not know whether to receive him as a returning champion or a vanquished warrior, but he assured those who saw him that he was not in the least dismayed by the happenings at Chicago.

Col. Roosevelt was greatly pleased at the news from Baltimore. He showed how closely he was keeping in touch with the situation there by reciting the vote by which William Jennings Bryan had been defeated a short time before in his contest with Alton B. Parker over the temporary chairmanship.

"Doesn't that remind you of what happened in Chicago?" he asked. "They are making the same fight at Baltimore. That is good. One thing is plain that Mr. Murphy will never make peace with Bryan."

Col. Roosevelt said that apparently the issue among the Democrats was fundamentally the same as that in the Republican convention. Should serious differences develop it is his belief that the new party will profit by it, in the way of receiving support from disaffected Democrats. With this in mind, Col. Rosevelt and his associates will take no definite steps until the Democratic convention has come to an end. He said that the first meeting of the temporary committee on organization, announced yesterday by Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, would be deferred until after the Democrats have named their ticket and that it would probably be held the latter part of next week. The meeting is to be held in New York. Its chief work will be to fix the date for the National convention and issue the call.

The only action which will be taken pending the news from Baltimore, Col. Roosevelt said, would be the organization of party machinery in the various States.

Timothy L. Woodruff and William Halpin, of New York, called on Col. Roosevelt today, who said they were already at work with the formation of the New York organization. Col. Roosevelt said that the founders of the new party hoped to take over a good measure of strength from the Democratic party. It was understood that as soon as he returned today the colonel got into communication with several Democrats who he thought, might wish to join the movement.

Dawson, Ga., June 25.—Mrs. Lou Johnson, an elderly widow, living alone on her farm near here, was burned to death early today and her home destroyed by fire. Relative state that the woman had large sums of money secreted about her home. They express the belief that Mrs. Johnson was murdered, robbed and the house set afire. Local police are investigating.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from Mr. J. N. Catlett, Commerce, Ga., and Mrs. Rose Garvin, Ridgeville, S. C., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, nongriping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly, so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Wednesday, June 26, 1912.

Do they know what they quarreled about?

Don't throw your hat in the ring till you fortify the ring against the steam roller.

Teddy has lived long enough to learn that some men won't let him eat 'em alive.

The Hon. Tim Woodruff sounds like a broad-thumbed fat man who wears a checked vest about the size of a porch awning.

Consider the other fellow's muscle before you take it into your head to deny him the privilege to run around loose at a picnic.

The amount of ice cut by the Hon. Bob LaFollette at Chicago wasn't sufficient to enable a mixer to make a first-class mintjulep.

Even Teddy the Terrible had to take the count. This fable teaches that we are sure to meet our match if we keep right on fooling with pirates.

Men who demand their rights and won't fight for them are individuals without the courage of their convictions. Mollycoddles belong to that class.

We wish to say Ha! Ha! at State conventions which pass resolutions of endorsement, without instructions, and then leave it to the delegates to vote as they please in a National convention.

"Don't waste your time attempting the impossible," advises a lecturer. How can we know it is impossible till we are up against it hard and fanning at hot curves coming swiftly from the box?

Even if she was dressed in white and was as pretty as a pond lily, her run at the Chicago convention was on a sidetrack of the main line that had been cleared for the schedule of the steam roller.

We ought not to read any man out of the Democratic party. No use to read one out and then plead for a recruit who has always been against us. If we kick out the old stand-bys we can't be expected to welcome men with changed convictions. Of course, if we like to be in a minority we can read out the whole bunch.

Look out! The "crooks", "gutter workers," "scuttlers," and "pirates" have scattered away from Chicago and have gone in all directions. They cannot be trusted after what has been said about them during the last two weeks. The delegates have gone home branded, and they will either have to be watched or show signs of reform.

One of the faults of the lion hunter is overconfidence in his ability to get the other felow's goat. Don't boast vainglorioously about what you are going to do to the other fellow. He might do it to you. Wait till you stand 'em on their head, and avoid all appearance of making a grandstand play to an audience which revels in the horse laugh.

Two huge and illuminating examples of Mutt and Jeff precinct meetings and soap-box primaries are furnished us by the Chicago and Baltimore conventions. Professional, adroit and unprincipled politicians care nothing for our soap-box methods of selecting delegates. They wait till the conventions meet, and then they bait their traps or fire up the steam roller to catch the "uninstructed" and to flatten out the impotents.

FIGHTS WITHIN PARTIES

When there was talk of a bolt by Roosevelt and his delegates at the Chicago convention, Governor Hadley pained the contingent by leaving suddenly for Missouri without declaring himself in favor of organizing the Progressive party. The Star said at the time that the Missouri Governor had simply run away from the proposition. That was quite evident in his preference to leave rather than identify himself with a movement that meant nothing and would accomplish nothing as a political force among thinking Americans. We were right. The Governor reached home on Monday and in an interview at the State capital, Jefferson City, he declared his determination not to join the Roosevelt third party movement. In stating his position upon the matter, the popular Missouri executive said:

"I believe I can render more service to the people as a member of the Republican party than joining in the formation of a third party. While I have in no way changed my mind as to the correctness of that for which I have contended, I undertake to say that no political party ever did or ever will exist in which at times, men will not use authority unfairly and to accomplish selfish and improper ends. In my opinion, the best way successfully to fight such men and methods and also the best way in which to fight for correct principles of government, is within the party, rather than leaving it. There were some planks which were omitted from the platform which I should like to have seen adopted, but will be found, I believe, in the platform nothing is objectionable to any Republican and on the whole it is the most progressive platform we have ever presented to the American people."

The Governor shows that he is a man who deliberates and can come to a judicious conclusion. He was not the man to act hastily and plunge headlong into a movement that will soon disintegrate, sending some of the deserters back to the Republican camp and others to swell the ranks of the Democracy. Those men whose Republicanism is thicker than their progressivism will straggle back to the G. O. P.'s, while those who are deeply convicted on progressivity will as surely land in the Democratic party.

The latter class have imbibed Jeffersonianism and only present and temporary political prejudice prevents them from recognizing the fact that they should become Democrats. The only possible reason for a third party is that it will provide a camp for third termers, devotees of the man Roosevelt, who can get together and have the sulks, rejecting Democracy while resenting the steam roller treatment of their hero. When they get over their grouch they will go back to the party whose idea of political economy is that you can make the masses prosperous by taxing them to provide a subsidy for the industrial classes.

Those who are convinced that this is a government of the people and that it is wrong to make the people pay taxes to support the government and also to enrich tariff beneficiaries, should belong in the Democratic party. To belong to a third party, while most of the principles they are fighting for are those of the great Democratic party, would be only to stultify themselves while accomplishing no reform to which they are committed. Those Republicans who are mad with the party for its imposition upon the people and its fostering of the trusts under a system which promotes them by protection, are bound to become Democrats just as did Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, who became convinced that as a matter of deep conviction he was in the wrong political pew. Foss got his bearings and landed exactly where he belonged—in the Democratic party.

There is one great difference between the Democratic and the Republican parties. There are many policies upon which both are agreed and can legislate for the good of the country, but when it comes to levying tariff taxes they are irreconcileable. The Republican party levies that tax to get revenue for the government and at the same time to guarantee a profit to the manufacturers of the country. The Democratic party favors tariff taxes to furnish sufficient revenue for the government and insists that it is unconstitutional to tax the people for the benefit of other people who have special interests that are favored over others. The Democrats insist that there is no warrtnt in the constitution to make taxes unequal by taxing most of the people for a few of the people, and that it is immoral, unjust and tyrannous to levy tribute on the people to make any special interest either prosperous or rich. The Republican party simply favors government and popular aid for industries, compelling the people, by law to pay taxes for two purposes—one to support the government and one to make plutocrats of the favored classes.

Men who are in favor of being gouged by law for the benefit of other men ought by all means to be Republicans, so they can burden themselves and families for the benefit of the other fellow's business. Men who want to pay reasonable taxes to support their government and rebel at the monstrous idea of being heavily burdened by high prices to make plutocrats of others, ought to line up with the militant Democracy that will this Fall cook the goose of special privilege—a bigger issue than all the isms that a mountebank can discover between now and doomsday. However, it is better to swallow some of the isms than to permit either the Taft party or the Teddy party to make us stand and deliver our coin into the coffers of their millionaire campaign subscribers.

THE DROWNING SEASON

It might not be out of place to say something on this subject just at this time when human life is always in danger from water. Summer is the drowning season because it is the time when large bodies of water are used for sport—bathing, swimming and boating. People go into the water more during the Summer than they do in Winter, and more take to the water for boating, yachting and fishing than do so during the Winter. Thus the danger of losing life from drowning is ten fold greater in Summer than it is during all other seasons of the year.

Already from all parts of the country we hear of many drownings and narrow escapes. They make sad stories for this carnival time of year. They are tragedies which wring our hearts when they occur near us, and which touch our sympathies when they are ever so far away. The loss of life by carelessness or accident when one is in the bloom of health is peculiarly distressing. Death under any and all circumstances, touches the hearts of the human family, but when it comes suddenly and in a manner that is extraordinary we are shocked and grieved almost as one family.

Accounts taken of drownings during the Summer from all over the country, show that most of them are on account of recklessness of carelessness. It is necessary, therefore, for people to exercise caution, and for every precaution to be taken that may be necessary to preserve someone's life. At Wrightsville Beach this season, more than usual precaution is taken to avoid the possibility of drowning. In front of Lumina a surf boat, manned with three lifesavers, rides just outside the surf, in easy reach of the hundreds who go there to enjoy a plunge in the ocean. It is almost impossible for an accident to occur there, and especially when bathers exercise due caution. It is not necessary to go out too far, and it is not good to stay in so long that there is danger from cramp. It is always a good idea to bathe where precaution is exercised to protect bathers, and where these precautions are not taken they ought to be provided. A few boats, even ashore, a number of surf buoys, life preservers, life lines, and windlasses would not cost much, but they may mean much to anyone who gets in trouble from carelessness, recklessness or accident.

In case there should be a near drowning, there should be a handy barrel upon which to gently roll the victim face downward, and restoratives, stimulants, rubbing brushes or clothes, and stretchers should always be kept on hand. At all resorts more of these precautions and preparations are being taken than usual so visitors can have pleasure at the least risk. Surf bathing is not only delightful but generally is perfectly safe, where bathers take care and do not take risks. Especially are they secure when there is preparedness for emergencies.

GREAT MODERN COAL PIER.

It is modern terminals that are going to count in the port business of the future. It is the equipment and facilities for quicker work and cheaper handling of freights and cargoes, that will attract commerce to a port. The port that is best prepared with modern water terminals and warehouses, using labor saving machinery, is the one which can count on doing a shipping and distributing business when commerce quickens on account of the completion of the Panama canal. Wilmington must bear this in mind and get busy.

The ports from the State of Maine to the State of Washington are getting ready with their municipal terminals and coal piers—the modern kind such as the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad is soon to construct at Newport News. The plans of the C. & O.'s great pier have been completed and work will soon commence upon it. When completed, the Richmond Journal says it will be the greatest coal pier on the Atlantic seaboard. It will cost $1,600,000, and every device for easy and quick coaling of ships will be embraced in the equipment. It will be different from the ordinary coaling pier, which will be slow, out of date, and uneconomical when compared with the C. & O.'s new pier.

This pier will be operated entirely by electricity and the new method will do away entirely with the switching of cars on to the pier proper, as it will eliminate the ordinary coal car from the pier. Electrically operated dump cars will receive the coal from regular coal cars or gondolas, and these dumpers will then be hoisted by electricity to the upper deck of the pier where they will be operated by their own electrical power along the tracks to the coal chutes. After having been dumped, the dump cars will be switched down an incline to the ground level to resume their places for receiving more coal from the gondolas.

There are renewed rumors that the Chesapeake & Ohio is now surveying a line to Wilmington and Southport, and it is hoped that such a pier as that coal road will have at Newport News will be duplicated at Southport, geographically a natural location for a coaling station for Panama canal commerce.

CURRENT COMMENT.

One reason for wanting to reduce the colored representation in the National Republican Conventions is that they cost too much.—Richmond Journal.

The nomination of Taft will help the Democrats in a number of counties in the State to win out. In close counties the Republicans in great numbers are so mad with Taft that they will not vote at all.—Greensboro Record.

The Spartanburg Herald exults that a Wrightsville hotel is heading its bill with "Broiled Bluefish a la Spartanburg," and explains that Spartanburg's breaking into the menu map is due to three Spartanburg fishermen now at Wrightsville Beach. We are not told whether "Lobsters a la Spartanburg" have been put on yet.—Charlotte Observer.

Thomas Settle, of Asheville, is said to be about as happy as District Attorney Holton and Postmaster Reynolds over the Taft victory. The Asheville Citizen says: "The famous Settle smile which the victorious Rooseveltians of the North Carolina convention reported as being somewhat frayed came out in full bloom last Tuesday when the Taft men at Chicago elected Elihu Root as temporary chairman, and Saturday afternoon and that night the smile which Mr. Settle wore could be seen several blocks away. "Politically speaking," said Mr. Settle, "Theodore Roosevelt is a dead one. His entrance into the ring was a flash in the pan. It served to give him that notoriety which he is so fond of, but as an issue in Republican politics he has been eliminated.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

The refusal of Gov. Hadley to join the Roosevelt bolt is a terrific body blow to that groggy enterprise. At the same time it reveals Hadley as after all a small man in a great crisis. Hadley pretended to be a Roosevelt man. Hadley agrees that Roosevelt was the choice of the Chicago convention. Hadley says that the nomination was stolen from Roosevelt. Hadley is estopped from disputing that the whole structure of the convention was fraudulent and that all its acts were vitiated by fraud.

But Hadley says "that in his opinion the best way to fight the men and methods of the Chicago convention, and to fight for correct principles of government is within the party rather than by leaving it." In brief, after a week of stormy denunciation of "robbers," and "thieves," Hadley humbly takes his place as their apologist and excuser. Now he fares forth valiantly to assist in perpetuating the rule of privilege, the rule of the bosses, the rule of Taft.—Columbia State.

With the flush of the wires Saturday night the dispatch of Col. J. C. L. Harris from Chicago was not received by the News and Observer until Sunday morning. It is highly illuminating in parts as have been every one of the colonel's inside stories from the field of battle. He says in one part that "The Roosevelt contingents are bitterly disappointed. They felt that with Roosevelt as the candidate they would have had an even chance to carry their State. That feeling is gone now, as they cannot tell now what they can do with three tickets. Roosevelt says he intends to keep his promise to make several speeches in North Carolina. There is no enthusiasm among the Taft people. They feel sure of his overwhelming defeat and their only consolation is the defeat of Roosevelt." This statement is significant. Have the Republicans thought of anything but Taft or Roosevelt since the campaign began? One says: "Only I can save the country." The other says, "You are not going to save it. I am going to save it." In the meantime has there been any talk of principles, of ideas, of ideals?—Raleigh News and Observer.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

Notable Instance of Rapid Development in Educational Circles

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—One of the most notable instances of rapid development in college circles in the South is presented by the Presbyterian College of this city, which was reorganized at the beginning of the last term. At that time Rev. John L. Caldwell, A. M., D. D., was made president and given a free hand. A complete reorganization of the college was immediately effected with practically a new faculty of university trained teachers and about $15,000 was spent in overhauling and renovating the handsome college building, which was already practically new.

Under the new regime the college had the most successful year in its history, with 266 students enrolled, the boarding capacity being taxed almost to the utmost. A larger attendance is expected during the coming session, for which President Caldwell is perfecting a further reorganization of his faculty to the end that the very highest efficiency may be secured in all branches of college work. The standard of the college was raised to some extent last year and further requirements for graduation are being made this year. No trouble is anticipated in making the requirements stricter, however, because of the increased efficiency of the faculty in all branches, especial attention being paid to the regular college work and the school of music.

The success of the college during the last year with the prospect for the future convinced the trustees that an even larger plant would be necessary to take care of the growth of the college, and plans are now being worked out for the building of this greater plant. One hundred and twenty-five acres of land at Myers Park, worth probably a quarter of a million dollars, has been donated to the college and will be utilized for the new college, work upon which will begin next year. The plans contemplate an institution that will be second only to Smith's, Wellesley and one or two others of the heavily endowed colleges for women.

A WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE

With Newbro's Herpicide

While there are no thrills in the narration of Mrs. P. T. Nichols, 623 Broad St., Beloit, Wis., her story is nevertheless one of amazing interest: "Stricken with neuralgia and erysipelas, I lost all my hair. My doctor recommended Newbro's Herpicide. I used six or eight bottles and now have a fine head of slightly curly light brown hair. Not a gray hair in my head. This is the more remarkable as I am middle-aged."

While the results which follow the use of Newbro's Herpicide are always more or less astonishing, they are always natural. Herpicide destroys the dandruff germ, stimulates the flow of blood to the hair follicles and keeps the scalp perfectly healthy. It makes possible a natural and luxuriant growth of hair, except in cases of chronic baldness.

While remedies said to be "every bit as good" as Newbro's Herpicide are frequently offered, one should insist upon having the original germ destroyer, Herpicide. That is genuine. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

For sale at all drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. Send 10c in postage for sample to The Herpicide Co., Dept R., Detroit, Mich.

FIRST DAY OF THE RETREAT

Clergy of Diocese of East Carolina Gathered at Beach in Annual Meeting—Will Continue Through Friday.

The annual Bishop's Retreat, given by Bishop Strange to the clergy of the Diocese of East Carolina, as a period of study, discussion and recreation, opened yesterday morning in the chapel at Wrightsville Beach, to continue through Friday. Holy Communion was celebrated at the opening service at 7:45 by Bishop Strange, and Rev. Thos. P. Noe, of Wilmington.

In attendance on the retreat are Rev. Dallas Tucker, Greenville, N. C.; Rev. B. S. Lassiter, Hertford; Rev. B. F. Huske, Newbern; Rev. Morrison Bethea, Williamston; Rev. T. P. Noe, and Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, Wilmington. Others expected to arrive before the Retreat ends are Rev. R. B. Drane, D. D., of Edenton, and Rev. J. E. Williams, of Clinton.

Following the early morning prayer service the clergy had their breakfast at the Atlanta Cottage, where they are the guests of Bishop Strange while the Retreat is in session, after which the regular morning session was held. The feature of this session was a paper on "The Philosophy of the Christian Religion," one of the books to be reviewed at the Retreat, which was prepared and read by Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton. The paper was a most concise review of the book and the fundamental teachings that the author presents.

Upon conclusion of the reading of the paper, a general discussion of practical matters on church and pastoral work, of interest to the clergy, was had. This feature is one that is always found interesting and helpful, as the clergy are able to exchange ideas and theories on many matters, the combined viewpoints often bringing out phases that would not be reached individually.

The clergy had the afternoon to themselves, as will be the case while the retreat is in session. Needless to say, they find ample opportunities to employ their time pleasantly and profitably at some of the many forms of recreation and amusement which the resort furnishes.

LARGEST CARGO OF COAL.

Barge Old Dominion Brought 3,000 Tons of Anthracite to This Port.

The barge Old Dominion, Capt. Clark, yesterday completed discharging at the wharves of the Springer Coal Company the largest cargo of coal that was ever brought to Wilmington. The cargo consisted of 3,000 tons of anthracite coal, probably 50 per cent. more than was ever brought to the city on a single vessel before, and it aggregated the cargoes of five ordinary coal carrying vessels. Work of unloading the cargo began 10 days ago and was completed late yesterday evening.

The barge was formerly the steamer Old Dominion, plying out of Norfolk. The vessel is nearly 300 feet long. It is towed from port to port by large seagoing tugs. The trip from New York, whence the cargo was shipped, to Wilmington, was made in 56 hours, better time than is made by the New York steamer. The barge will take on a cargo of cross ties here to carry back to New York.

CONTROVERSY OVER ALLEY.

Suit Started in Superior Court Yesterday Against C. D. Maffitt.

Suit was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by I. J. Bear, Sigmond Bear and Moses Bear, partners trading as Samuel Bear, Sr., & Sons, and J. S. Funchess vs. C. D. Maffitt, which action has been threatened for some weeks. Mr. Maffitt recently purchased the northeast corner of Water and Princess streets. He tore away the old building and had started the erection of a handsome new building. The plaintiffs allege that in digging the foundation for the new building the defendant obstructed the alley-way in the rear of the property in defiance of the rights of the plaintiffs and the public generally. They ask that the plaintiff be enjoined from obstructing the alley and that he remove whatever obstruction he may have placed thereon, and that he be required to pay the plaintiffs damages in the sum of $1,000. Rountree & Carr represent the plaintiffs.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy.

MRS. JAMES O'CONNOR DEAD

Passed Away Yesterday Morning at The Home of Her Daughter

Mrs. James O'Connor, of Knoxville, Tenn., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Cox, at 311 Red Cross street, died yesterday morning shortly after 9 o'clock, after an illness of several days following a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was stricken last Friday and had been gradually sinking since that time, and the end was not unexpected.

The deceased was 70 years of age and is survived by two children, Mrs. Wm. E. Cox of this city, and Mr. Samuel P. O'Connor, of Knoxville, Tenn. Both were at the bedside of their mother when the end came, Mr. O'Connor having arrived here Saturday night. Both will have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The remains were taken on the 7 o'clock train last evening to be carried to Knoxville by way of Goldsboro. They were accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Cox and Mr. Samuel P. O'Connor. The funeral will be held in the Tennessee metropolis. The vestrymen of St. John's Episcopal church, of which Rev. Wm. E. Cox is rector, acted as pallbearers at the house and station.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Rather Tame Session Yesterday Morning—The Cases Tried

Few cases of interest were heard in the Recorder's court yesterday morning and the session was rather a dull one. Willis Bunting, colored, was tried on two charges, disorderly conduct and assault on a female. On the first count judgment was suspended but on the second he was given a fine of $10 and costs. Jasper Bennett, a white man, was found guilty of disturbing an excursion party at Carolina Beach and judgment was suspended on payment of the costs.

Joe Pee, colored, and J. H. Vereen, white, were tried on charges of disorderly conduct. Pee was found guilty and fined $10 and costs, while Vereen was found not guilty.

Wm. Nixon, colored, and Dr. F. H. Russell, were charged with operating automobiles with the rear lamps unlighted. Judgment was suspended in each case on payment of costs. A similar case against Dr. M. M. Caldwell was continued.

Harry Jones, white, was found guilty of an assault on W. E. Jones, also white, and was fined $10 and costs. Drunks were conspicuous by their absence.

HAD TO BE KILLED

Horse Fatally Injured When Load of Brick Fell On It

A nice-looking bay horse belonging to Henry Neill, colored, was so badly injured yesterday morning in front of the Odd Fellows' building, on Princess street, that it was found necessary to kill the animal. The horse was drawing a wagon load of about 500 brick, weighing probably more than a ton, and a small colored boy driving. Just after passing the corner of Third and Princess, one of the front wheels of the wagon collapsed and threw the wagon forward against the horse. The horse started to run, when the other front wheel gave way under the strain, and the heavy load came crushing down on the animal's hind legs. The bones were broken and the tendons and flesh badly cut. Dr. T. B. Carroll, the veterinarian, was consulted and he advised that the animal be put out of its pain as soon as possible. It was killed by a member of the police force.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HUSTON.

Services Held Yesterday Afternoon From the Late Residence.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Huston, who passed away Monday night, was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the late residence, No. 420 Grace street, and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Rev. Jno. C. Wooten, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a devoted member, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church.

Following the services at the house the remains were tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment was made. The grave was covered with many handsome floral designs, attesting the great sorrow that is felt at the death of Mrs. Huston and the love and esteem in which she had always been held by so many. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. W. Fleet, J. A. McNorton, L. L. Newell, J. T. King, Harry Payne and A. L. McNorton.

Make Inspection Here

Mayor Joseph D. Smith yesterday received a letter from Mr. A. L. DeRosset, of Charlotte, secretary of the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association, informing him that the association will make an inspection in Wilmington Wednesday and Thursday, July 10th and 11th, and calling for the hearty co-operation of the Council. It is probable that Col. Walker Taylor and Mr. S. M. Boatwright, both well-known insurance men, will appear before Council this morning to explain to that body the importance of the work undertaken by the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association.

Delegates to Convention.

The Chamber of Commerce has named the following as delegates to the North Carolina Good Roads Association to be held in Charlotte August 1st and 2nd: Messrs. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., W. E. Springer, A. B. Skelding, M. S. Willard, H. deW. Rapalje, R. H. Pickett, H. Lacy Hunt, L. W. Moore, W. A. Dick and J. M. Hall. All are good roads enthusiasts and it is hoped that as many as possible will be able to attend.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man of Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonsful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today if I had not used this great remedy." It's guaranteed to satisfy, and you can get a free trial bottle or 50-cent or $1.00 size at R. R. Bellamy.

After spending several days most pleasantly at the beach, a guest at Mrs. William Parsley's cottage, Miss Minerva McNeill returned yesterday to her home in Fayetteville.

Mr. Arthur B. Williams is at the Seashore Hotel for a stay of several weeks. He is the Wilmington representative of Gwathney & Co., cotton brokers of New York City.

Mr. Granville Beal, of Calhoun Falls, S. C., arrived at the Oceanic Hotel for a stay of some time. Mrs. Ada G. Cocke, of Asheville, was also among yesterday's arrivals at the Oceanic.

Mr. T. S. Clark, of Monticello, Fla., arrived yesterday for a stay of some time at the Seashore Hotel, joining his daughter, Mrs. B. J. Smith, of Charlotte, who has been at the hotel for some days.

Mr. Willis Dobbs, wife and children and Mr. R. H. Dobbs, wife and children, of Atlanta, Ga., were out for a trip in Banks Channel yesterday afternoon in the yacht Edwin, and had a most delightful outing.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Jones and daughter, of Edensburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Layton, of Trenton, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Draper, of Wilmington, are among the guests at the Atlantic Cottage, owned by the Misses Herring.

Mr. Frank Nine, Jr., who has been spending some days at the Seashore Hotel, left yesterday for Charlotte, where he will make his headquarters, having recently been appointed a representative of a Baltimore casualty company.

Capt. W. S. Durham and young son, Lee Durham, of Siler City, spent yesterday at Wrightsville Beach. He will return home this morning, but expects to visit the beach again this season. He is one of Chatham county's best known and most substantial citizens.

The first of the popular souvenir dances for children of the season will be given at Lumina Thursday night. These dances have always proven very popular with the little folks, and are greatly enjoyed by the older ones. The regular mid-week dance will be given tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Chapman, of Butler, Ga.; Miss Lucy C. Tomlinson, Miss Florence Stokes and Miss Margarette Stokes, of Atlanta, composed a most delightful party out for a trip in Banks Channel yesterday morning in the launch "Suwannee." They are guests at The Oceanic.

Among the prominent arrivals at The Oceanic yesterday were Mrs. L. A. Ottenger and daughter, Miss Hortense Ottenger, of Macon, Ga., who will spend the Summer at the resort. Mrs. Ottenger usually spends the Winter here as a guest at The Orton. Two daughters, Mrs. Solomon and Mrs. Einstein, live here.

A popular feature at the Oceanic Hotel now are the tower parties, which are given in the tower of the hotel, which is about 250 feet in height. It offers a delightful place for informal luncheons, bridge parties, etc. It is expected that the tower will be one of the most popular nooks at The Oceanic this season.

Every boat in Banks Channel, including those of the fleets of the Oceanic and Seashore hotels, have been chartered for this morning and several more boats could be used if they could be had. The rush for boats today is due to the fact that owing to the high tide and wind yesterday no trips outside could be made. Almost a dead calm was reported last night and it is expected that there will be fine fishing outside today.

A large party of excursionists are expected this afternoon from Charlotte and they will remain on the beach until Friday morning, when they will leave on the return trip. Every year the Pritchard Memorial Baptist church Sunday School of Charlotte conducts an excursion to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach and this year they are joined by the Tenth Avenue Presbyterian Sunday School, of Charlotte, and by Presbyterians and Baptists of Gastonia. The party from Gastonia will go to Charlotte this morning on the interurban line and join the Charlotteans there in time for the train which leaves over the Seaboard Air Line at 8:30 A. M., arriving here about 2 P. M. Six coaches and a refreshment car have been secured and more will be added if necessary. On the return trip the train will leave Wilmington at 9:30 Friday morning.

Guests of the Oceanic Hotel as well as a large number from other hotels and cottages present for the evening, were given an extraordinary treat last night in the way of a charming and delightful musical concert in addition to the superb orchestra. Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, of Atlanta, Ga., who is visiting Mrs. Robt. H. Northrop, at her cottage on the beach, and Mrs. Geo. S. Boyland, of Wilmington, rendered several beautiful solos that were greatly enjoyed by all. Mr. B. F. Mitchell, of Norfolk, Va., who with Mrs. Mitchell is a guest at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Huggins, and Mr. Frank Banks, of Wilmington, rendered several highly pleasing baritone solos, while Mrs. Ignatius Fried, leader of the Oceanic orchestra, contributed several violin solos that were much appreciated. One of the most enjoyable numbers of the evening was a recitation by little Miss Catherine Haar, of Wilmington. It is seldom that the beach visitors have the opportunity of attending such an altogether enjoyable concert and many thanks were returned to the accomplished musicians.

Through the influence of Mr. James Ker the management has secured a most excellent equipment, several of the cars being vestibule cars. Nearly three reserved coaches have been sold. There will be no extra charge for reservations while the third car lasts. A large number of parties have been formed in Charlotte and surrounding towns and country to take advantage of the delightful trip and stay at Wrightsville Beach. The train will be operated under a fast schedule, but will stop at all stations between Charlotte and Wadesboro to take on passengers. ## WILL STICK TO SHIP.

Lodge and Deneen Will Support Taft in Campaign.

Nahant, Mass., June 24.—In a statement given out at his home in Nahant, United States Senator Henry Cabote Lodge declared himself in full accord with the platform of the Republican convention at Chicago. Senator Lodge took no part in the Taft-Roosevelt contest for the nomination. "I regard the declared determination of the party to stand firmly for the constitution and for the independence of the courts, because they are vital to the maintenance of free government, as of American independence," said Senator Lodge. "I shall give the Republican party and to its candidate and to its policies the best support of which I am capable in the coming campaign."

Chicago, June 24.—"I am a Republican," said Governor Deneen, of Illinois, when asked about third party movement.

"The Republican National Convention nominated Mr. Taft. I am the Republican party's candidate for Governor. That should be sufficient to state my position. The Illinois delegation refused to allow any bolt that might be proposed. We remained in our seats and followed the wishes of the people of Illinois, as expressed at the primaries, by voting for Mr. Roosevelt. I will have a complete statement of my position ready later."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

General Federation of United States Meets in San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 25.—Three topics will be the main themes of discussion during the sessions of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will convene formally here tonight. The subjects are:

The Owens bill to create a National bureau of health, a measure now before Congress; the suffrage question, and uniform marriage and divorce laws.

The first named has met with strenuous opposition from the medical fraternity generally, especially from the League of Medical Freedom.

The contest for president is growing warm and the partisans of Mrs. Philip Carpenter, of New York, and Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker, of Texas, are campaigning actively.

Seniors Won Again

The Seniors continued their winning streak and took another indoor baseball game from the Crabs at the Y. M. C. A., gymnasium last night by a score of 9 to 7. The contest was close and exciting and much enthusiasm prevailed both among the players and the audience. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of Fillyaw and Lewis for the Seniors and Davis for the Crabs. Batteries, for the Seniors, Fillyaw and King; for the Crabs, Lewis and Davis.

"Fourth" at Tabor.

Arrangements are being made for one of the largest celebrations ever held in Columbus county on July 4th. There will be a great basket picnic and everybody is invited to come and bring well filled baskets. The day will mark the opening of the campaign in Columbus county and all candidates are expected to be on hand and make their opening speeches. A number of prizes are offered by progressive Columbus merchants.

Makes the Nation Gasp.

The awful list of injuries on a Fourth of July staggers humanity. Set over against it, however, is the wonderful healing by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, of thousands, who suffered from burns, cuts, bruises, bullet wounds or explosions. It's the quick healer of boils, ulcers, eczema, sore lips or piles. 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy.

NAVAL INSTITUTE.

Teachers in Lenoir Meet—Two Marriages are Solemnized.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 25.—A novel county teachers' institute, at which the teachers are organized into classes like pupils and a grade of the city school children is used in demonstrating modern methods to the marms and masters of the country districts, was opened here yesterday. A State law requires the teachers to attend an institute once in two years, and non-attendance means a forfeiture of their certificates except when attendance is providentially hindered. Nearly every public school teacher in Lenoir county is attending the sessions in the local High School building, and the new departures in instruction are declared by all to be far superior to the usual stereotyped rules of such institutions. County Superintendent Kinsey, City Superintendent Underwood, and Miss Hattie Parrott, a teacher of the city schools, are the faculty, and methods of teaching, reading and phonics under the most modern system are being amplified by a well trained class of children from the local schools.

Mr. Ray Brewer and Miss Annette Dowdy, of Oriental, were married at the home of Rev. F. S. Love, of the Methodist church, here. The ceremony was simple, and only a few intimate friends witnessed it. The couple will spend several weeks in Kinston with the bride's sister, Mrs. Clarence Wooten. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer are well known throughout the eastern part of the State, and are from leading families of Pamlico county.

Another mariage of more than ordinary interest was that of Mr. Claud Tilghman and Miss Annie Padrick, at Dover, as the climax of an automobile elopement. The couple were wedded to Rev. M. W. Dargan, in the presence of a very few witnesses. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Padrick, and formerly resided here, being prominent in Kinston social circles. The groom is from the county, and is a prosperous young farmer. The affair, although in the nature of a runaway, was without opposition on the part of the parents of either, and was an agreeable surprise to the many friends of both.

NORTH CAROLINA HOSPITALITY.

Reception to be Given Thursday at Baltimore Business College.

Baltimore, June 25.—A reception will be tendered by the North Carolina Society and the Woman's North Carolina Society of Baltimore to the visitors from North Carolina in the reception rooms of the Baltimore Business College, Charles and Saratoga streets, Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Through the courtesy of Mr. E. H. Norman, president of the college, the spacious rooms of the school will be headquarters for North Carolinians during the convention.

REAL HOUN' DAWGS.

They Will be Seen in Parade at Baltimore for Clark.

Baltimore, June 25.—Forty real "houn' dawgs" from Albemarle county, Virginia, are to be in the parade which the Clark supporters are planning to precede the opening of the convention. Other cuiosities in the parade will be "Borax Bill" with his famous team of snow white mules, the tallest, shortest, and fattest delegates from Oklahoma and a group of aged members of the Jackson Democratic Club, the oldest Democratic organization in existence.

KILLS FIVE-YEAR-OLD.

Jesse Mark, Crazed With Booze, Shoots Little Girl.

Greensboro, N. C., June 25.—A dispatch from Thomasville, N. C., tonight says that Jesse Mark, while crazed with whiskey, shot and instantly killed the five-year-old daughter of Marvin Westmoreland, of that place. The dispatch says that the tragedy has greatly shocked and aroused the people of the town.

MARRIAGE OF MISS ETHEL CRUMP AND MR. FRANK KAY

Cards have been issued announcing the marriage of Miss Ethel Godwin Crump to Mr. Frank Wilbur Kay on Tuesday, June 25th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pumphrey Crump, 219 North Seventh street.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Miss Nina Andrews at the piano played "Cujus Animan" from Rossini's Stabet Mater. To the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin the bridal party entered the parlor, where the vows were spoken in front of a bank of potted plants, while Miss Andrews softly played that exquisite gem, McDowell's "To a Wild Rose." The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Bowen, pastor of the Dock Street Christian church.

The bride, who is an attractive and accomplished young lady and who has for the past year or two made her home in Charlotte where she has a host of friends, was handsomely attired in a traveling suit of burnt blue cloth with hat and gloves to match and carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. She wore a pearl and diamond broach, a gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Laura Crump, who wore French batiste and carried sweet peas. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Hovis, of Charlotte.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kay left for an extended Northern trip. They will visit New York, Boston and other points and returning about the middle of July they will be at home, No. 614 North Graham street, Charlotte, N. C.

FOR "BRYAN AND WILSON."

Asserted by Some That Such a Ticket Would Unite East and West.

Baltimore, June 25.—With lines clearly drawn for a fight on the convention floor between conservatives and progressives, with Wilson forces lined up behind the Commoner, talk among some delegates yesterday was "Bryan and Wilson" for President and Vice President.

To some of the Western and Southern State delegates it made a pleasing sound. A few men wearing the badges of those for whom their delegations had been instructed to vote sought out the Nebraskan and anxiously asked when they could substitute the badges they wore for a "Bryan for President" badge.

It was asserted by those who suggested this ticket that it would unite the East and the West.

That a ticket like this would secure not only the warm support of the Democratic party, but receive many of the votes of the progressive Republicans was predicted.

Delegates pointed out that by such a move Roosevelt's new party would have its thunder stolen, while in the present progressive tendency of the country the combination of Bryan and Wilson on a ticket nominated by the Democratic party would beat Taft by an overwhelming majority.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Chas. Riley, colored, was taxed the costs yesterday by Justice Harriss for an assault upon another negro at Carolina Beach.

—St. Matthew's English Lutheran Sunday School excursion to Carolina Beach has been postponed until July 16th, when the steamer Wilmington will make three trips to the pier and return.

—A special meeting of the Wilmington Driving Association has been called to be held in the office of Kellum & Loughlin tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The call is signed by Mr. Joseph A. Price as acting secretary.

—Rufus Howe, colored, charged with committing a fraud by secretly removing his baggage from the place where he was boarding, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Harriss. He will be given hearing this morning.

—Paul Taylor, colored, was arrested last night by Officer Leon George on a charge of vagrancy, and later a warrant charging highway robbery, was served on him. It is alleged that he snatched $2 from the hands of Ellis Nixon, an aged colored hackman.

—Wm. A. Bordeaux, white, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Harriss charging him with an assault on his wife. He furnished $100 justified bond, with Mr. H. F. Wilder as surety, for his appearance before Justice Harriss this morning at 11 o'clock.

—Charged with an affray Hartsfield Crandall and W. H. Wheeler, both white, were arrested early last night. They gave bond for appearance at the Recorder's court today. The fight is alleged to have occurred about 7:30 last night on Castle street. Neither was injured, it is said.

—With the usual impressive ceremonies, the annual installation of officers for the three local Masonic lodges was celebrated in the Masonic Temple Monday night. Past Grand Master R. C. Cantwell, of Wilmington lodge, conducted the ceremonies, being assisted by Dr. W. D. MacMillan, Past Grand Master of Orient Lodge, as Grand Marshall.

—The regular weekly meeting of the City Council will be held this morning at 9:15 o'clock. In addition to the routine business two special matters are to come up—one the question of obeying the demand of the County Board of Health with reference to purchase of an incinerator and the other with regard to the acceptance of the modified plans for a sewerage system.

—Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, city milk inspector, will probably recommend to City Council today that all dogs allowed on the streets of the city be compelled to wear muzzles. This step is taken with the expectation that it will break up the epidemic of hydrophobia prevalent at this time among the dogs of the city. A number of persons have been bitten during the last two weeks.

REPS. SPLIT IN DURHAM

Are Many Followers of Teddy But Few For Taft

Durham, N. C., June 25.—The nomination of President Taft as the standard bearer of the Republican party has just split the party in this county, and if Roosevelt heads a third party, Taft will get less than a hundred votes in this county. This is the prediction of the chairman of the Republican executive committee, who stated yesterday afternoon that if the third party was formed "Taft won't get a smell." He thought that if Roosevelt was nominated by this national progressive party he would so badly split the Republican party that Taft would not have a chance at the Presidency, and that Durham county would stand by Roosevelt in the election as they have stood by him in the fight for the nomination. There has been little or no sentiment in the whole county for the President, with the exception of the support of a few of the appointed Federal officers, and even these have made but a lukewarm fight for the man appointing them. The larger part of the men in the Civil Service work are openly for Roosevelt and have been fighting for him.

PICKPOCKETS FIND VICTIMS

Several Persons Robbed of Wallets at River Resorts

Baltimore, June 25.—With about 25 detectives from out of town scattered about the city, the local force is on edge. Every suspicions face is scurtinized and suspects are kept under the surveillance of either a detective or a policeman detailed in plain clothes.

Several reports reached police headquarters yesterday from persons who were victims of pickpockets, but the light-fingered gentry have been plying their trade at the resorts along the river front.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

IT MAY BE CLARK OR A DARK HORSE

the probable permanent chairman of the convention. This was in line with the policy of the conservatives to placate the progressives, notwithstanding that they have defeated Mr. Bryan. Aside from this Mr. James received the second largest vote in the National Committee on the selection of a temporary chairman and this ordinarily would entitle him to favorable consideration for permanent presiding officer. His choice would also be further evidence of the Clark strength in the convention.

Those who voted against Mr. Bryan declare that he had his say in the convention today and failed to stampede it. Mr. Bryan frequently was interrupted in his remarks and it was regarded as doubtful tonight whether he would get another hearing on any issue involving himself.

Mr. Bryan claimed the right to speak today on the ground that in three Presidential campaigns he had borne aloft the banner of Democracy as its Presidential nominee. Now that the fruits of victory were at hand, he said, he should not be denied an opportunity to rejoice with his party. The Democratic party, "a pillar of fire by night for the plain people," now that the dawn had come, should not, he declared, be made a "pillar of cloud by day." Mr. Bryan made another point which elicited unbounded enthusiasm from his hearers. He declared that the influences which had been at work in the Republican convention at Chicago were operating even more brazenly at Baltimore, and he added:

"The Democratic party could not be run by Ryan, or bought by the Belmonts."

Mr. Bryan plainly was under stress as he made his plea to the convention to turn down the Wall Street interests which he declared were represented in the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman. He advocated Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, as chairman. The latter, taking the floor from the Nebraskan, dramatically called upon Judge Parker to withdraw from the fight and in the interest of harmony to throw his support to any one of a dozen progressives named by the Bryan sympathizers. This Mr. Parker declined to do. Mr. Kern then declared that as it was a fight to the death between the interests and the people, and Mr. Bryan was the only person fitted to best bear the brunt of the battle. In behalf of Judge Parker it later was stated that as he had not sought the office at the hands of the National Committee and had taken no part in the fight, he felt he had no right to withdraw.

Mr. Bryan left the convention hall by a rear entrance soon after the vote on the temporary chairmanship was announced and resumed conferences in his rooms. Tonight he said:

Bryan's View of Situation.

"The vote in convention shows the attitude of the convention and my speech shows my view on the subject. I have no decision to make. I await developments without impatience. I do not know of anything that needs to be added."

Mr. Bryan did not attend the night session of the convention to hear Judge Parker's speech, but remained in his rooms to attend to correspondence and confer with his friends. Later Mr. Bryan purposed joining in the deliberations of the platform committee.

Mr. Bryan was apparently in cheerful humor, notwithstanding his defeat. He carefully refrained from giving any suggestion as to his future course of action in the convention.

"Will you carry on the fight for the progressives on the floor of the convention?" he was asked.

"I hope to be at the convention, but I do not care to outline any programme."

"Some have suggested that your defeat in the convention today might make you less interested in the present convention."

"I can tell you from time to time what degree of interest I may take without outlining it in advance."

"But you are going to stay here or are you not?"

"Well, we had to pay for these rooms for five days and I guess we will get our money's worth by occupying them."

The first session of the convention, which marked the defeat of Mr. Bryan, was a noisy one. It began with every one apparently in the best of good humor, but soon after the opening prayer by Cardinal Gibbons, the lines between the Bryan and anti-Bryan forces tightened almost to the breaking point.

Enthusiastic Greeting.

Mr. Bryan was given an enthusiastic greeting both from the floor and the galleries when he made his first appearance and began his speech of protest against Judge Parker. He had not proceeded far, however, before interruptions began to be hurled at him. This was a signal for further disorder. Senator Kern was accorded treatment even less courteous and thence no man who faced the convention escaped a greeting of cat calls and other interruptions.

The hubbub grew to such an extent that when Judge Parker had been escorted to the platform to make his "keynote" speech, the disorder was so great that a recess was taken until 8 o'clock tonight, when he resumed his discussion of party principles and his denounciation of the Chicago Republican convention as one of the most disgraceful exhibitions in the political history of the country.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, was talked of late tonight as a possible running mate for Champ Clark in the event of the latter's nomination. For the permanent chairmanship Senator Culberson, of Texas, and Senator Kern, of Indiana, were discussed in addition to Mr. James, but opinion generally seemed to center on the latter. It was said the conservatives were ready to throw support to any man the progressives might decide upon.

Yopp-Whitsett Sanitarium.

Mr. A. H. Yopp, a popular Wilmingtonian, who is now one of the proprietors of the Yopp-Whitsett Sanitarium and Liquor Cure Co., of Reidsville, N. C., is spending a few days in the city as the guest of friends and relatives and on business. Friends of Mr. Yopp will be glad to know that his institution is doing exceedingly well and that a number of patients are being treated successfully at all times.

RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION.

C., C. & O. Line Being Built Through Virginia-Kentucky Mountains.

Bristol, Tenn., June 25.—The general contractors, who have in charge the work of constructing the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railway, through the Virginia-Kentucky mountains, from the present mining operations at Dante, in Russell county, Va., to Elkhorn City, Ky., embracing 42 miles of the most difficult work ever undertaken in the South, are sub-letting the work in sections, and men and material are now being hurried into the mountains. Already much of the lighter equipment has been hauled over ridges and through ravines into the heart of the mountains. The extension is to be completed by January, 1914.

The new line will connect with the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway at Elkhorn City for the lakes and points West. It will cross the inexhaustible coal deposits of Dickenson county, Virginia, which, up to this time, have not been mined, except for local uses. In this county the coal crops out at frequent intervals along the mountain side, and the abundance of the deposit has been verified by tests at various points.

The new road will open up one of the richest mining and timber sections of the South, all of which it has heretofore been impracticable to develop for lack of railway facilities.

..Theatrical..

The Grand Theatre as usual will present a most attractive bill for today's entertainment of its hundreds of patrons who are coming to know and appreciate the many good things that are provided at this popular playhouse for their delectation.

"An Arabian Tragedy" will be perhaps the favorite for today. It was produced in Egypt by the Kalem Company and the story told is one of absorbing interest, telling the tragedy of two lives and dramatically picturing life in this Eastern country. While this film will be equal to the best there will be still another just as good. This will be a Lubin, "The Ingrate." This is the story of a young man who is admitted into the family of a banker and is given every opportunity, being clothed with wealth and position. However, he becomes a spendthrift and is dissipated and driven to desperation and forges his guardian's name. Finally he is led to the poison of his friend and eventually the boy becomes crazed and confesses his guilt.

At the Bijou.

Again yesterday was the New Bijou the mecca of ladies and children in the afternoon, and of the grown-ups at night. It was the popular spot, and with its perfect system of ventilation, electrically cooled interior, comfortable chairs and big show, it immensely pleased all. Not only is the Bijou a rare spot on account of its cool nature and swell entertainment, but it is fine from a hygienic standpoint, the ventilation being of such high order.

The new bill today will really be a wonder. It will be headed by the greatest and most varied trio of films ever presented in Wilmington. Selig's freshest will be one of these topliners. It will be "The Peacemaker." It is a virile drama, which appeals to the fervid emotions of humanity and teaches a great lesson. It is one of the most wholesome of stories and the leading role is taken by the well known actor, Herbert Rawlinson.

Another one of today's stars is "The Foreman's Cousin." It is a stirring story of the West, but it is entirely different in plot from anything of the same class heretofore presented.

Then will be offered a great educational film, "Views in Calcutta, India." This film will be just like taking a trip to this interesting and much talked of city, and will furnish a vast amount of information.

All the other films are fine ones, while the music today will be of the most tuneful and latest type.

LEAVES FOR BALTIMORE.

Cook County Will Boost Mayor Carter Harrison.

Chicago, June 25.—Peter Bartzen, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, familiarly known hereabouts as "Boisterous Pete", started for Baltimore last night with a boom for Mayor Carter Harrison for President under his hat.

"We're out for first honors," said Commissioner Bartzen, "but if that don't go, why second place might look all right. Harmon and Harrison appear good and then we would not 'sidestep' Clark and Harrison for an ideal combination."

Chicago, June 25.—It is estimated that the cost of the Republican national convention to delegates, visitors and national committeemen, exclusive of pre-convention expenses of candidates, estimated at $5,000,000. Music alone cost $40,000.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

Fluctuations Were Irregular After an Opening Advance—The Market Became Easier in the Late Trading.

New York, June 25.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today and fluctuations were irregular after an opening advance. The close was steady and from 1 to 4 points net higher. The market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 8 points in response to better cables than looked for and reports of excessive rain in the Eastern belt. At an advance of 8 to 10 points the market met considerable cotton and a slight reaction occurred, but the undertone continued very steady and after easing off three or four points the active months again stiffened up on buying of July by leading trade interests. This bulge carried prices about 11 to 12 points net higher, but the advance was again checked by realizing and the market became easier during the afternoon. A favorable interpretation of the weekly weather report, weakness in New Orleans and selling orders from both New Orleans and Memphis contributed to the reaction which carried prices back to about or a shade under the closing figures last night. Covering by early sellers and renewed trade support caused a final rally of 3 or 4 points from the lowest. The report from the Southwest that the Texas acreage had been reduced 6 per cent. and that there had been reduction of nearly 16 per cent. in the acreage of Oklahoma, appeared too far out of line with other private advices to be fully credited here during the day, but this report in connection with unfavorable crop advices from Georgia and the talk of excessive rains in that section of the belt, seemed to render recent sellers very uneasy during the early trading, and there was quite a general covering movement at the start. Later business was comparatively quiet and it was claimed that leading bull interests had reduced their lines on the forenoon advance.

Receipts at the ports today 3,774 bales against 3,974 last week and 1,785 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,630 bales against 4,558 last year; at Galveston 1,055 bales against 5,554 last year, and at Houston 117 against 132 last year.

STOCKS BECOME MORE HEAVY

Yesterdays Market Differed Very Little From That of the Previous Day—Much Attention Given to Crops.

New York, June 25.—In practically every essential feature today's stock market repeated yesterday's performances, with the exception that the movement was duller and the undertone more heavy. Lowest prices were registered in the morning, after which some slight hardening was observed, but the outcome was relatively unimportant.

Less attention was devoted to politics and more to crops and general trade conditions. Continued sunny weather in the Northwest is benefitting all cereal growths in that section, and the railroads are making ready to move the expected heavy tonnage. Copper shares were once more under pressure by reason of the highly speculative conditions now prevailing in the metal trade here and abroad.

The Southern Railway made a net gain in earnings for May of $53,000, according to a report submitted.

Announcement was made after the close of the market of the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend on Anaconda Copper. It was generally expected that an increased or "extra disbusement" might be made. The late improvement in steel followed a statement that all previous records for output would be excelled in the current month by the Steel Corporation.

Features of the bond division were the strength of Norfolk & Western convertibles and Wabash refunding fours. The movement otherwise was irregular. Total sales, par value, were $2,074,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today 221,600 shares.

Street and they have not forgotten the fact that after a corporation management of the campaign had alienated the rank and file of the party Wall Street threw the party down and elected a Republican.

"They have not forgotten that when the vote was counted we had a million and a quarter less than in the two campaigns before and a million and a quarter less than in the next campaign.

"They have not forgotten that it is the same man, backed by the same influences, who is to be forced on a Progressive party, to open a Progressive campaign."

While Mr. Bryan was speaking Thomas F. Ryan was sitting on the convention floor.

"You ask why I know that speech would not be satisfactory when I have not read it," said Mr. Bryan. "I tell you it is the man, not the words that make the speech."

Mr. Bryan was interrupted again with cries of "Parker, Parker."

The Democratic party has led this fight until it has stimulated the Republican hosts to go and do likewise and at last appear willing to trust the people with control of their own government.

In Sight of Promised Land

"I repeat we have been traveling in the wilderness. We now come in sight of the promised land. During all the many years of darkness Progressive Democracy has been the peoples' pillar of fire by night.

"I pray you delegates, now that dawn of day has come, do not rob the people of the right to have our party as their pillar of cloud by day."

This brought the Bryan sympathizers to their feet and Mr. Bryan let it stand as his concluding words.

Senator Kern followed Mr. Bryan to the front of the platform.

There was much speculation as to what he would say.

It was said he would decline the nomination and urge Mr. Bryan in his place.

Kern Tries to Compromise

Mr. Kern's purpose at last became known.

He appealed to Judge Parker to join him in urging some man like Senator James A. O'Gorman as the compromise candidate. He declared that discord would cease if Judge Parker and his associates would agree on any one of the following in addition to Senator O'Gorman: Senator Culberson, of Texas; Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee; Representative Clayton, of Alabama; former Governor James E. Campbell, of Ohio, or former Governor Folk, of Missouri.

Senator Kern made his challenge to the New York delegation direct. It was a remarkable scene and took the convention entirely by surprise. Judge Parker was seen in animated conversation with his colleagues. Judge Parker said to anxious inquirers that Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, soon would speak for him.

In the meantime the convention was in wild discord. Senator Kern still held the floor as Chairman Mack pounded for order.

Senator Kern took the delegates to task for deriding Mr. Bryan. He said he could be killed, but it would not be homicide. "It would be suicide. It would bring shame and sorrow to six million people in this land."

"I have made by appeal," said Mr. Kern.

"What is my response? If there is no response let the responsibility rest where it should. If this is to be a contest between the people and the powers, I am not fit to be its leader. If my proposition is to be ignored, there is only one man fit to lead the hosts of progress. That man has been at the forefront for 16 years, William Jennings Bryan.

Leader of the Fight

"If you must fight then the leader must be worthy of the cause; that leader must be Mr. Bryan."

Senator Kern sat down amid cheers and jeering and Mr. Bryan again arose.

Mr. Bryan said he tried to get the committee to agree on a progressive. He said he urged Senator-elect James to be the leader in the fight, but he would not consent. He went next to Senator O'Gorman and then at last he appealed to Senator Kern.

"I stand ready to support any Progressive who will lead," he added, "but if no other Progressive appears I shall accept the leadership and let you express through me your advocacy or opposition to the principles we have fought for 16 years."

Theodore Bell, of California, took the platform as Mr. Bryan returned to his seat.

Mr. Bell said he did not believe there were any sinister influences at work behind Judge Parker. Many loyal friends of Mr. Bryan would vote for Judge Parker.

Shouts of "Bryan, Bryan," interrupted the speaker. Thye came largely from the galleries. Quiet was restored at last and Bell asserted that Judge Parker's Democracy had withstood the severest tests to which any man's Democracy could be subjected and had received the approval of Mr. Bryan in 1904.

Disorder Breaks Out

Again the disorder broke out in the galleries and was quelled with difficulty.

Representative Fitzgerald, spokesman for the New York delegation, was recognized. "He is a Cannon man from New York," shouted a delegate at Fitzgerald.

It was a long time before Mr. Fitzgerald could proceed. As he addressed the convention the disorder spread to all parts of the hall except the delegates' section.

It became known that Senator Kern, ill from the effects of heat in the hall, had hurried to his hotel.

A chorus from the rear of the hall drowned out Fitzgerald's intended eulogy of Parker with renewed cries of "Oh, you Cannon! A Cannon Democrat!"

This convention will adjourn at once, unless we have order," announced Sergeant-at-Arms Martin, but even that threat failed to quiet the tumult.

Mr. Fitzgerald decided to go ahead despite the noise.

"New York," he concluded, "will loyally abide by the decision of this convention."

With this statement Mr. Fitzgerald returned to the floor.

A squad of police on duty outside of the hall was brought in and the aisles were cleared with difficulty. The galleries seemed beyond all control and intent upon shouting to their heart's content.

Steam Roller at Work

While the demonstration was on Chairman Mack announced that the roll would be called.

"We protest against that," shouted a Bryan supporter. "We will have no gag rule here as they had at Chicago."

Mack was preparing to enforce his order, when Bryan burst through the crowd behind the stage. With sweat streaming from his face and set jaws, he leaped to the front of the stage.

A cheer greeted him as he leaned forward. For a few minutes the hall was swept by even wilder disorder.

"I rise to a point of order," said Mr. Bryan, when he could make himself heard. "Our conventions are governed by the rules. The chairman announced the roll would be called while persons were standing and seeking recognition. As no limitation has been placed on debate the chairman has no right under the rules to close it."

"The Chair desires to make a statement," explained Chairman Mack.

"A motion was made from the floor to close the debate. I did not do it."

Senator Lea moved debate be limited to 15 minutes on a side. Chairman Mack declared the motion carried.

Bryan vs. Wall Street

Cone Johnson, of Texas, rose. "All I know," he said, "is that the fight is on; that Bryan is on one side and Wall Street on the other."

An outburst of cheering greeted this statement and Johnson soon concluded with the words: "God bless you all for your decorum."

There were no more speakers and the roll was called.

Alabama's 24 votes were cast for Parker and was immediately challenged. A poll of the delegation was made. In the midst of the Alabama call the chairman of the delegation said he and his associates had been instructed to vote under the unit rule. This was denied by one of the delegates.

The resolution of instructions to the delegates was sent to the desk and read. It instructed for Underwood for President and ordered the delegation to vote "as a unit on all questions affecting his candidacy."

Senator Lea, of Tennessee, shouted that Mr. Underwood's candidacy was not involved in the Bryan-Parker fight and said if the chairman held that the unit rule applied he would appeal from the decision.

Vote on Bryan-Parker Fight

Alabama was passed, while the chairman considered the question.

Arizona, next called, demanded a poll. The result was Bryan 4; Parker 2.

Arkansas cast her 18 votes as a unit for Parker. California divided, Parker 18, Bryan 7. Kern 1.

Colorado split 6 and 6 between Parker and Bryan.

Connecticut gave 12 to Parker and 2 to Bryan.

Delaware went solidly for Bryan, 6 votes.

Florida flopped to Parker with 11 votes, one to Bryan.

Georgia's 28 all were given to Parker.

Idaho gave her 8 to Bryan.

Illinois voted under the unit rule, 58 for Parker.

Indiana gave 21 to Parker, 8 to Bryan, one absent.

Iowa split even, 13 to 13.

Kansas gave all 20 to Bryan.

Kentucky gave Parker 17 1-2 and Bryan 7 1-2, one absent.

Louisiana split 10 to ten.

Maine gave 11 to Parker, 1 to Bryan.

Maryland swung into line with 14 1-2 for Parker to 1 1-2 for Bryan.

Massachusetts gave Senator O'Gorman, of New York, 3 of her votes; 18 for Bryan; 15 for Parker.

Michigan gave Parker 21, Bryan 9.

Minnesota gave 24 votes solid for Bryan.

Mississippi's 20 votes went solid to Parker, while Missouri gave the New Yorker 22 and the Nebraskan 14.

Montana gave only one to Parker, 7 to Bryan.

When Nebraska was called there was a moment's silent wait: "Nebraska gives three to Parker, 13 to Bryan," called the State chairman, amid applause.

Nevada gave 6 to Bryan.

New Hampshire 5 to Bryan and 3 to Parker.

Then came New Jersey's delegates pledged to Woodrow Wilson who joined the fight on Parker. Twenty-four of the New Jersey delegates followed Mr. Wilson's advice and voted for Bryan. Four went to Parker. Eight from New Mexico went to Bryan and then it was New York's turn.

Leader Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, arose.

New York casts 90 votes for Alton B. Parker.

North Carolina, for Parker 15; Bryan 9.

North Dakota went solidly to Bryan with 10.

Ohio gave Parker 29 to Bryan's 19.

Oklahoma gave Bryan 20.

Oregon revived Bryan's hopes by giving him 9 to Parker's 1.

Pennsylvania called out a Bryan demonstration when it gave the Nebraskan 67 votes to 9 for Parker.

Rhode Island went to the Parker standard with 10, while South Carolina gave her 18 solidly to the Nebraskan.

South Dakota also went solidly for Bryan.

Tennessee gave 17 to Parker, 7 to Bryan.

Texas, a Wilson State, gave 40 solidly for Bryan.

Utah split four to four, while Vermont gave 8 to Parker.

Virginia gave 14 to Parker and 10 to Bryan. This gave Parker the victory. Washington went 14 to Bryan.

The absentee vote from Michigan was announced for Parker.

West Virginia's delegation was polled, the result being 9 1-2 for Parker, 6 1-2 for Bryan.

Wisconsin went solidly 26 to Bryan.

Wyoming gave six to Bryan.

Alaska split 4 to 2 in favor of Parker.

The Philippine Islands and Hawaii each went the same way, while Porto Rico gave two to Parker and four to Bryan. The District of Columbia gave all six of its votes to Parker.

Nomination Made Unanimous

Before an official announcement could be made Senator Lea, representing the Bryan interests, moved that inasmuch as Judge Parker had received 579 votes to 506 for Bryan, the nomination be made unanimous. There were some shouts of "no," but the chairman declared the motion had been carried.

Senator Stone, of Missouri; Senators Lea and Hudspeth, of New Jersey, were named to escort Parker to the chair. A round of cheers greeted the newly-elected chairman as he climbed the steps to the platform. National Chairman Mack confined himself to the mere introduction: "Judge Parker, temporary chairman."

The confusion was such that Representative Fitzgerald put a motion to recess until 8 P. M., basing his action on the ground that the "delegates were tired out."

The motion was put and carried.

It was 3:47 P. M., when the recess was ordered.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

Spirit of Rivalry Takes Possession of Baltimore — Merrymakers

Baltimore, June 25.—Baltimore is doing its level best to take care of the thousands of visitors within its gates. The hotels could not begin to accommodate them all but the public-spirited citizens are opening their homes to receive them and indications are that few will suffer any great inconvenience.

A spirit of rivalry was abroad last night. While some of the delegates sweltered in crowded hotel rooms holding caucuses and discussing the prospects of their Presidential favorites, many more of the visitors joined the throngs which paraded the streets until a late hour. College yells of the Woodrow Wilson Princeton Club and the "Houn' Dawg" song of the Clark enthusiasts mingled with the hurrahs of the followers of Underwood, Marshall, Harmon, Burke and Baldwin.

Managers of candidates supplied the ammunition for the noise. A leaflet with complete words and music of the "Houn' Dawg" song was passed out by a hoarse male chorus of Missourians. Harmon boosters handed out copies of the famous hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The leaflet recited the "story of a hymn" told by Governor Harmon himself and in it he explained that the singing of this "beloved old tune" to a farmers' picnic in Ohio returned him to the Governor's chair.

The Underwood cry, "Underwood, the Party's Best Asset," merely made the claim without a tune and the Southerners quickly realized the importance of some sort of music. "Dixie" supplied the need.

"Win With Wilson," an alliteration supplied by yell and four-deck poster, was somewhat more pretentious than the Marshall designation of their candidate, brought to Baltimore by 1,200 hoosiers, "Indiana's Choice."

Arriving delegations blocked the streets, crowding hotel entrances where candidates had established headquarters, so that it took a football rush from 10 to 20 minutes for the enthusiasts to gain entrance.

NEGRO WOMAN LYNCHED

Killed Wife of Prominent Planter at Pinehurst, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., June 25.—Ann Boston, the negro woman who stabbed and killed Mrs. R. E. Jordan, wife of a prominent planter at Pinehurst, Ga., yesterday afternoon, and who later was taken from officers at Cordele by a mob, was lynched at an early hour this morning, according to a long distance telephone message to a local newspaper.

After securing the woman from the officers some of the members of the mob placed her in an automobile, which was turned in the direction of Pinehurst. According to the long distance message as soon as Pinehurst was reached the woman was taken from the automobile and hanged to a tree.

Details of the lynching were lacking. It is known, however, that the woman was hanged by a small crowd which followed the sheriff in automobiles after he had thwarted it at the scene of murder.

Mrs. Jordan, the victim of the enraged negress, was attacked when she had complained of the woman's work around the house.

The black attacked her with a knife, stabbed her several times in the back and then cut her throat.

A mob was formed there but the sheriff outwitted it there and took the negress away. They were followed and the officer overpowered and his captive taken.

OUTLINES

The Democratic National Convention convened yesterday at noon at Baltimore and Bryan opposed Judge Parker for the temporary chairmanship, the latter winning out by a vote of 579 to 510.

Political leaders at Baltimore last night seemed to think that W. J. Bryan's defeat for the temporary chairmanship had eliminated him from the Presidential race and that the odds have shifted to Clark. It was said that New York would support the Speaker and would make a bid for the Vice Presidential nomination for Senator O'Gorman.

The night session of the Democratic convention yesterday was a short one, the delegates giving evidence of their desire to rush matters through and complete their work as soon as possible. A resolution was passed adopting the rules which governed the last convention.

On the vote for the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic convention the majority of the North Carolina delegation voted for Parker. The delegation is opposed to Clark, who seemed to be a favorite last night.

Ann Boston, a negro woman who Monday stabbed and killed the wife of a prominent planter of Pinehurst, Ga., was taken from officers and hanged early yesterday morning.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs assembled at San Francisco last night.

Col. Roosevelt announced last night on reaching Oyster Bay that the committee on organization of his new party would take up their work immediately after the Democratic convention adjourned.

place in this convention that he is wanted, one place where he is capable of rendering great service, service unsurpassed by anyone and that is the chairman of the Resolutions Committee, and I hope and believe that every member of the Resolutions Committee will honor himself by casting his vote for that great leader for chairman of that committee.

"My fellow citizens there are no reactionaries; whatever they may have been once there are none now. The Democrats are progressive; now it may possibly be true that here in this great convention with all these able men coming from every section of the country, I say it may be true that all of you will not be able to agree at once that a single highway constitutes the only road to progress; but you will all agree upon this one proposition, that the voice of the majority of this convention, speaking through its Committee on Resolutions and by the adoption of the committee's report by the convention shall speak the will of every Democrat in this land."

When Parker referred to the Democratic tariff bills there arose a shout of "Underwood, Underwood."

In reply came a yell from the Clark supporters: "Champ Clark is the boy that did it."

"Well, I'm not going to do that," said Parker, with a smile and went on with his speech.

Judge Parker concluded at 9:13 and was given a round of applause. Before the applause had died away the routine proceedings were gotten under way. A resolution introduced by Joseph E. Bell, of Indiana, provided that the rules of the last Democratic convention should govern this year's convention. The resolution went through under the gavel.

On motion of George W. Greene, of Rhode Island, the usual committees were provided for. An effort was made to announce 10 o'clock tomorrow as the hour for the committees to meet. "No," shouted a score of delegates.

"We have no Perkins, to pay our board," volunteered a Texas delegate.

After a short argument it was decided to have the committees meet immediately after adjournment tonight.

An attempt to adjourn the convention until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and at 9:34 an adjournment was had until noon tomorrow.

DEMONSTRATION FOR BRYAN.

Called a True Christian Gentleman at Baraca Union.

Norfolk, Va., June 25.—Rev. Holmes S. Garvatt, pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church at Camden, N. J., caused a prolonged demonstration for William Jennings Bryan at the night session of the Worldwide Philathea Baraca convention tonight. Rev. Mr. Gravatt was speaking on "The Symmetrical Character," and he referred to Mr. Bryan as a true Christian gentleman. There was deafening applause from two thousand delegates and spectators, and the demonstration continued for fully four minutes.

"When you go to Baltimore, don't tell Mr. Bryan that I placed him in nomination," said the speaker, and there was more applause.

PASSENGER AGENTS MEET

Begin Annual Conference at Toxaway —Organization Effected

Asheville, N. C., June 25.—General passenger agents, comprising members of the Southeastern and Southwestern Passenger Associations, began their annual conference at Lake Toxoway today with an attendance of about two hundred. Beyond effecting organization with Joseph Richardson, of Atlanta, as chairman of the Southeastern Association, and James B. Hannigan, of St. Louis, of the Southwestern, little was done today. The conference will be in session for three days.

Baltimore, June 25.—One thousand advocates of woman suffrage are expected to participate in a parade which suffragettes, led by Mrs. Donald R. Hooker, are planning to hold Thursday night to impress the delegates. Floats representing the States of Washington, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Colorado, where women vote, are being constructed to show the triumph of American suffragists to date.
